DGCA LIFTS BAN ON BOEING 737 MAX AFTER TWO-AND-HALF YRS

The Directorate General of Civil Aviation on Thursday withdrew the ban on the aircraft's commercial flight operations in India

CHANGES MADE TO ENHANCE SAFETY ASPECTS

DGCA grounded all Boeing 737 Max planes in India after the crash of an Ethiopian Airlines 737 Max plane near Addis Ababa in March 2019, which killed 157 people, including four Indians. The plane's flight control software had serious flaws, which sent the aircraft into fatal nosedives. Boeing has made several changes to the software and hardware for airworthiness

SPICEJET THE SOLE CARRIER WITH 737 MAX

- In its order, the DGCA cited the clearance granted to Boeing 737 MAX aircraft by 17 regulators worldwide, including the US. China is the only major country yet to allow the aircraft to fly again
- In India, only SpiceJet has Boeing 737 Max aircraft in its fleet. The low-cost carrier plans to deploy the plane from next month

Two serial blasts rock Afghan capital; 12 US soldiers and children among over 70 killed, 140 hurt; no outfit claims role but ISIS-Khorasan's hand seen

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

AT least 72 people, including children, were reportedly killed and over 140 injured in two suspected suicide blasts in Kabul on Thursday evening. Twelve US military personnel, too, were among the victims, and 15 were wounded, General Kenneth McKenzie, head of the US Central Command, said at a briefing in Washington. While there was no official confirmation on the number of locals killed in the blasts, media reports quoting Afghan health officials on the ground put the number at 60. The casualties could go up as many are fighting for life. A few Taliban fighters were also injured in the blasts.

The first explosion went off in a crowd of people waiting to enter the airport near the Abbey Gate. Reports said shots were fired soon after. Thousands of Afghans had gathered at the gates trying to gain access to the airport, hoping to catch a flight to safety. The second blast happened hours later, near the Baron Hotel in the city. A few days ago, the US military had lifted 169 Americans from that hotel using choppers. It is now said to be housing UK's evacuees.

Videos from the scene showed dozens of bodies strewn across a sewage canal and the surrounding banks outside the airport.

"We can confirm that a number of US service members were killed in today's complex attack at Kabul airport. A number of others are being treated for wounds," Pentagon press secretary John Kirby tweeted, adding that "a number of Afghans" were also killed in the attack.

While no group claimed responsibility for the attacks, the US and other Western governments believe the blasts were triggered by the Islamic State's regional affiliate, the Islamic State of Iraq and the Levant – Khorasan Province (ISIS-K), which is opposed to the Taliban.

The Taliban had shot dead one of the group's top leaders in Afghanistan, hours after taking over the Kabul prison where he was held.

The blasts came a day after US defence officials warned of terror attacks near the airport. On Wednesday, the US Embassy in Kabul had urged people to avoid travelling to the airport unless given specific instructions were given.

Meanwhile, US evacuation flights continued to take off from the airport. Some countries including Canada have announced they were halting their airlift evacuations in view of the deteriorating situation.

U.S. WARNING TO CITIZENS

On Wednesday, US defence officials had warned of attacks on the crowds gathered outside the Kabul airport. The US Embassy in Kabul had specifically asked its citizens to leave Abbey Gate, East Gate, and North Gate of the airport immediately. The UK, too, had issued a similar warning to British nationals in Afghanistan

Wait-and-watch policy on Taliban

India must play larger role: Gowda

As the security situation in Afghanistan remains volatile, former PM HD Deve Gowda on Thursday said India has a larger humanitarian and statesmanly role to play. He also suggested that the country should explore an independent and meaningful role in the region. P9

DESCRIBING the security situation in Afghanistan as critical, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar on Tuesday told an all-party meeting of floor leaders in Parliament here that India is adopting a wait-and-watch approach in dealing with the Taliban. The priority now is full evacuation of Indian nationals.

The long term interest is in retaining robust friendship with the Afghans, Jaishankar told the meeting attended by 37 leaders from 31 political parties.

The leaders were first briefed by Foreign Secretary Harsh Vardhan Shringla. Jaishankar then took questions.

Responding to one of the 26 questions, Jaishankar admitted that the Doha process for a smooth transfer of power had not fructified. He also said there was no clarity on when US forces would be withdrawn completely from Kabul.

Fielding questions on the government's Taliban policy, he said: "It would be foolhardy to take a policy call on Kabul. India should avoid the path where events force it to take a decision and that too without assimilating the facts."

He also refuted allegations that India had been isolated on the global stage, saying leaders like Russian President Vladimir Putin, German Chancellor Angela Merkel, US Secretary of State Antony Blinken, UK Foreign Minister Dominic Raab, Saudi Arabian State Foreign Minister Adel Aljubeir have all been in touch with New Delhi. Also, India chaired a special session at the United Nations Security Council on Afghanistan two days after the Taliban seized power.

India has so far evacuated 565 people from Afghanistan.

Drone policy liberalised for usage across sectors

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

TAKING a big leap in promoting drone usage across sectors, the Ministry of Civil Aviation on Thursday liberalised its rules, cutting down the number of forms to be filled and approvals sought.

Civil Aviation Minister Jyotiraditya Scindia said the new rules aim to simplify procedures and reducing the compliance burden. The number of forms to be filled to operate them have now been brought down from 25 to 6.

"We are all set to usher in a new era of drone usage in India.. We're going to ensure drone application in transportation, logistic, defence, mining, infrastructure sectors and more. It will provide more jobs. Our aim is to make India a global drone hub by 2030," said the minister.

He added that the new rules could make the concept of air taxis a reality in the days ahead. "Air taxis are being researched and invented globally and many startups are coming up. The time is not far when taxis, like the ones of Uber, etc, that you see on roads, you will see in the air under the drone policy. I believe this is very much possible," he said.

As per the new rules, approvals for the unique authorisation number, unique prototype identification number, certificate of conformance, certificate of maintenance, import clearance, acceptance of existing drones, operator permits, authorisation of R&D organisation, student remote pilot licence, remote pilot instructor authorisation, drone port authorisation, etc have been abolished.

Besides, no pilot licence is required for micro drones (for non-commercial use), nano drone and for R&D organisations. Also, there will be no restriction on drone operations by foreign-owned companies registered in India.

The Pune-based SII has already supplied 12 crore doses of the Covid-19 vaccine in August, they said.

Experts advise caution as calls for Ganesha festivities grow

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WHILE Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta on Thursday said Covid-19 guidelines for Ganesha festival could be revised, based on the reduction or rise in Covid cases, right-wingers are demanding public celebrations and processions during the festival, though such events could potentially become super-spreader events leading to a third wave of the pandemic in the state.

The State Government had recently issued guidelines banning any public celebrations or processions during the festival to prevent a surge in Covid-19 cases across Karnataka.

However, earlier this week, senior BJP MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal urged Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai not to impose restrictions on public celebrations of Ganesha Chaturthi or any other Hindu festival and threatened that even if the Chief Minister imposed restrictions (during Ganesha festival) he would not remain silent.

In Mangaluru, Sri Rama Sene's state general secretary Anand Shetty Adyar on Thursday threatened to stage a dharna in front of offices of BJP legislators in Dakshina Kannada district from August 30 if the district administration does not allow public celebrations of Ganesha Chaturthi, by August 29.

Mysuru gang rape: Perpetrators filmed act, threatened victim

ONGOING investigation into the gang rape and sexual assault of a college student at the foothills of Chamundi Hills in Mysuru on Tuesday night has revealed that the attackers had filmed the act and had even threatened the victim and her friend of uploading it on social media if they approached the police.

After the incident triggered outrage across the state, a special investigation team has been constituted under the supervision of ADGP Pratap Reddy, which inspected the scene of crime on Thursday. Sources said that over 34 articles and crucial evidence have been recovered from the spot based on which the police are on the trail of the culprits.

The team also recovered liquor bottles from the crime scene near Lalithadripura and are tracking the bar codes of the bottles to trace the shop and collect the footage of the buyers. The police are also rounding up those involved in eve-teasing.

But a major challenge is the fact that the police are yet to record the statement of the survivor who is undergoing treatment for multiple injuries in the city and is in a state of shock. ADGP Pratap Reddy said, "It is a big task as we still don't have a statement, but we have put together a very good team and involved all the technical agencies and staff from across the state to crack the case."

Sources also revealed that the police are reviewing cell phone tower data in the area that were active between 7 pm and 8.30 pm on Tuesday and have shortlisted several numbers from which they hope to get some leads. P4

Home minister stirs row with remarks, CM disapproves

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

HOME Minister Araga Jnanendra courted controversy on Thursday when he remarked that "Congress is attempting to rape the Home Minister" and even suggested that the victim should not have ventured into a secluded place late in the evening. Hours after he was panned by the opposition Congress, and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai himself expressed disapproval of Jnanendra's statements from New Delhi, the Home Minister expressed regret and withdrew his remarks.

On Thursday, while responding to the Opposition's criticism of the State Government over the Mysuru gang rape, Jnanendra accused the Congress of politicising a sensitive issue when the government was trying its best to nab the accused. "It is an inhuman act. The Congress is attempting to rape the Home minister. The Congress is trying to politicise it," Jnanendra said. P4

Curtains down for Bhagel? Last-ditch bid to stay CM

RICHA SHARMA/EJAZ KAISER
@ New Delhi/Raipur

THE ongoing power struggle within the Chhattisgarh Congress took a new turn with the party's leadership directing Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel to respect the agreement of rotational CM he accepted two-and-a-half years ago and smoothly transfer power to his cabinet colleague T S Singh Deo.

The Baghel camp hasn't yielded yet, as a large number of MLAs on his side, including a couple of ministers and some senior leaders, flew into Delhi late Thursday evening to parade their support before the party high command.

Baghel is scheduled to meet former Congress president Rahul Gandhi on Friday.

Rahul had met both Baghel and Deo early this week to sort out the mess. "During the meeting, Baghel was told to follow the rotational formula he had agreed to after the Assembly elections in 2018. The party wanted to do this through consensus but now he is getting his camp MLAs to put pressure to stay in power," said sources, adding the change of guard is unlikely to be easy now. Baghel's tenure reached its halfway mark on June 17.

For his part, Deo claimed there was no such power sharing formula. Both leaders have, however, maintained that they will abide by decision of party high command.

DECKS CLEARED

Centre okays all nine nominations for SC judges

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Union Government on Thursday notified all the nine recommendations of the collegium for elevation as Supreme Court judges. With this, the decks will be cleared for India to have its first woman Chief Justice in 2027.

With these appointments, the working strength of the Supreme Court will rise from 24 to 33. The sanctioned strength of the top court is 34 and it is currently functioning with 10 vacancies.

Nine new judges, including three women, were elevated to the Supreme Court with President Ram Nath Kovind signing their warrants of appointment. The judges will take oath on August 31.

The new judges of the top court include Justice B V Nagarathna of the Karnataka High Court, who will be in line to be the first woman Chief Justice of India (CJI) in September 2027, Justice Bela M Trivedi, Justice Hema Kohli, Justice C T Ravikumar, Justice M M Sundresh, and senior advocate and former Additional Solicitor General P S Narasimha. Karnataka High Court Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka, Justices Vikram Nath and Jitendra Kumar Maheshwari are also among those appointed to the Supreme Court.

Three of the nine judges — Justices Vikram Nath and B V Nagarathna and Senior Advocate P S Narasimha — will go on to become the Chief Justice of India. Justice Nagarathna's tenure as CJI will be for only 36 days, if appointments are made as per seniority. P5

After admissions done, higher edn brought under new policy

Colleges seek guidelines for NEP implementation

EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA @Bengaluru

WITH Karnataka rolling out the National Education Policy (NEP) for higher education, colleges in the state are at a loss on how to implement it. Colleges had already admitted students before the state government's announcement to bring higher education under NEP. Now, they are struggling with the new admission process under the unified university and college management system.

According to a faculty member, the process is complicated and one doesn't know how to implement the policy at the college level. "There is absolute chaos," a lecturer said, adding that timetables are set and curriculum designed by autonomous colleges. Another contention is a lack of clarity on reservations, Vedic studies and Sanskrit at a time when students are allowed to choose which language they want to study.

In a letter purportedly sent to the Karnataka State Higher Education Council, autonomous colleges have sought exemption from admissions under UUCMS. The colleges have also sought clear guidelines on courses, common syllabus, modalities and logistics of institutional mobility for students, or the policy can't be implemented effectively.

They highlighted the infrastructural constraints in terms of logistics and laboratories, if institutions are to follow a master timetable. The implementation of 'major' and 'minor' subjects is also a hurdle as one of the disciplines can also be a vocational subject. Colleges said that in the existing system, they do not have vocational courses offered as electives in the first year itself. To come up with such a combination of programmes for the current academic year will be difficult, they feel.

Colleges also lack digital infrastructure for a robust learning management system through which lectures can be delivered online. They have sought more time to develop such infrastructure. Students, too, are confused about the implementation due to lack of counselling.

"Students do not know what is in store for them. Now admissions are being withheld in colleges... classes too are being asked to be stopped," said Sithara H M, Bengaluru district president, All India Democratic Students' Organisation (AIDSO).

On the four-year degree with easy entry and exit option, educationist Niranjanaradhya V P said the model was rejected in Europe, but was being implemented here.

Parents want govt to set up fee panel

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA
@Bengaluru

SEEKING the government's intervention in fixing school fees, parents have reiterated their demand for constitution of a fee monitoring committee this year, like that formed in some states.

"Such committees have been formed in Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu and Maharashtra. We had sought the formation of such a committee from the previous regime as well, and will place the demand before the current Chief Minister and Education Minister," parents told The New Indian Express.

A representative of a parents' body said that they're pushing for a relief of 50 per cent tuition fees this year. Schools are demanding pending fees of last year for admissions this year, parents alleged.

"There have been instances of threats by schools and blocking of classes due to pending fees. Parents are approaching the Karnataka Child Rights Commission for redressal. While the government has passed orders asking schools not to force parents to pay fees, local officials are not responding properly to complaints," said Chidanand, from Voice of Parents.

Integration of Metro, rly stations crucial

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

ONCE opened to the public, the Mysuru Road-Kengeri line of Namma Metro could play a crucial role in making the daily commute of office goers between Mysuru and Bengaluru faster and hassle-free. But for this, infrastructure must be put in place for easy pedestrian access between the new Metro stations and the railway stations in the vicinity.

While the Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Ltd (BMRCL) stresses that regular commuters between Bengaluru and Mysuru and neighbouring towns will benefit as the road traffic on Mysuru Road can be bypassed using the Metro, those expected to use them say that infrastructure for this is sorely missing.

Explaining the issues arising when interchanging between different modes of transport, S Yogendra, rail activist and member of Mysuru Grahakara Parishat, pointed out that the Jnanabharati Metro is connected to the railway station, but only a few trains stop there.

The Metro station at Kengeri getting ready for inauguration | VINOD KUMAR T

"The Metro stations of Kengeri and Nayandahalli are not connected with their respective railway stations which are at a distance of nearly 800 metres from each other. The road to access them is narrow, unhygenic and dangerous," he said and suggested that the Railways can consider the option of upgrading the Jnanabharati railway station to help commuters interchange easily there.

A senior railway official said that 30 pairs of trains ply between KSR Railway Station and Mysuru daily. "Of them, 25 pairs stop at Kengeri while two pairs of MEMU trains stop at Jnanabharati railway station."

The Kengeri Bus Terminal Metro Station is just 100 metres away from the BMTC TTMC bus terminal which has one Karnataka State Transport Corporation (KSRTC) bay, but there is no connecting bridge as of now.

Anjum Parwez, BMRCL Managing Director, said that the designs are ready and a Foot Over Bridge will be put up as soon as the line becomes operational.

FEEDER BUSES

The Bengaluru Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) will introduce 30 feeder buses (30 seaters) and 10 regular buses along the Mysuru Road-Kengeri Line, said a senior official. "At present, the feeder routes planned are between RR Nagar and interior areas, Jnanabharati and surrounding areas and Kengeri towards Bidadi and two other directions. These will only be short-distance buses. In addition, 10 regular buses will be introduced to cater to the expected traffic in the area. The detailed list will be released in a day."

Blasting may have caused Nandi landslip: Officials

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE landslide at Nandi Hills on Tuesday night has raised concern among environmentalists, geologists, conservationists and even government officials, who are planning to take a relook at the planning and works carried out so far in Chikkaballapur district.

While officials and experts say it is a one of a kind incident and a natural phenomenon, they do no rule out that ongoing blasting at other hillocks and human intervention in the region could have played a role too.

According to the Chikkaballapur district administration, the landslide happened in the Brahmagiri Hills area, Rangappa Circle, or the 10th Cross near the police checkpost. "The hill is a large monolith and over the years, a lot of mud and small stones had accumulated on it. Chikkaballapur normally receives 700-750mm rainfall annually, but on Tuesday night, the area received 10cm rainfall. With this, a portion of the mud and stones got washed down, exposing the monolith. It is a natural phenomenon," explained Chikkaballapur DC R Latha.

Geologists and forest department officials point out that the mud sheet gave way because of poor water percolation capacity and the soil could not hold any more. Over the years, the mud was gradually coming down and filled up the nala, blocking the flow of water. The same could have happened to the culverts created to ensure there is smooth flow of water.

They also suspect that earlier, many rivers originated in the hillocks, with Nandi Hills being the origin of five rivers, which have dried up. Many borewells have been dug by locals in the vicinity, leading to a drastic dip in ground water level, making the soil dry and loose, leading to a landslide. They also suspect that the ongoing blasting in nearby areas near Skandagiri Hills could have impacted Brahmagiri Hills.

ANAND SINGH TO VISIT NANDI HILLS

Tourism, Environment and Ecology Minister Anand Singh said he would be visiting Nandi Hills where heavy rain led to a landslide on Tuesday night. "There is a plan to develop Nandi Hills with private partnership, and the department will start the tender process to develop Nandi Hills," said Singh, who held his first meeting with tourism officials after taking over. He said he had placed a request for Rs 650 crore to take up projects, but the government had released only Rs 228 crore.

Neelakurinji blooms beckon tourists, chopper rides on offer

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE mass blooming of the Neelakurinji flower (Strobilanthes kunthiana) in Kodagu district is giving the much-needed boost to the state's tourism sector. With the hillocks of Mandalpatti and Kote Betta now carpeted with the blue blooms, tourist are flocking there in droves to witness a phenomenon that occurs once in 12 years. Also this time, the flower has bloomed on such a massive scale for the first time.

The timing of the blooms couldn't have come at a more better time. With the tourism sector just opening up after Covid restrictions, wildlifers, photographers and laymen are making a beeline to the "blue mountains" to witness the rare spectacle. For tourists keen on a different experience, heli-tourism is now an option to get an aerial view of the flowers. While the state government and the tourism department are attempting to revive the long-pending heli-tourism, a Bengaluru-based firm has already taken tourists on a heli-ride to the district.

Govind Nair, director, Thumby Aviation Pvt Ltd, said the firm took tourists from the Yelahanka air base to Kodagu last week. They are also offering a package tour to the region.

27th August: The current hopeful Jupiter pattern makes quite a flourish in the celestial spheres. It's the combination which rules everyone who fights for their beliefs. Some might say that's a good thing; I'm not so sure. I tend to feel that it's much better to listen to other people's beliefs rather than to seek to impose our own.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
As a result of recent social encounters you now seem to be torn between new associations and a quite natural duty to those who are unhappy or confused. With careful juggling, you may be able to satisfy your social desires and fulfil your other commitments.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
We are now in the run-up period to the next major lunar alignment. The significance for you is that pleasant social events are likely to combine with certain intense encounters, even the occasional confrontation, over the next week. Family gatherings could bring surprises - including pleasant ones!

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Whatever takes place on the work front now needs to be viewed with a certain amount of caution or even scepticism. You have too much to gain to squander everything for the sake of some personal dispute or other. It will help matters if you understand that partners don't necessarily agree with you.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
The more sensitive among you may now be aware that children, and interests connected with children, are likely to assume a greater than average place in your thinking over the next few days. Pleasurable events and a change of attitude are on the cards.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
Unfortunately, any disagreements or difficulties with relatives or colleagues are likely to become even greater over the coming few days. But so, by the same token, are developments which are deeply pleasurable and optimistic. You'll be walking a real tightrope – so, good luck!

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You have a powerfully curious side to your character. Over the next five days your ability to search out the truth, uncomfortable as it may be, will be at its strongest. Keep on your current track and you'll combine solid success with remarkable ideas.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The Sun is a complex planet. Western astrologers emphasise its power over life, but their eastern colleagues point to a harsh, uncompromising face. This is why you may now feel both optimistic about the future, yet slightly uneasy. It's good to have doubts, because that means you'll be covering all angles.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Between now and the end of the year you will be sowing the seeds of a domestic upheaval, possibly even a move of home. Remember this trend as you manage your personal affairs, and see to it that events suit your long-term plans. Also, consider any and all options.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
A financial or practical problem is obviously not going to disappear overnight. However, the stars are about to do something very curious, making you believe that such questions have indeed disappeared. But have they really gone? Or will they return in a different form?

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You are well used to long-term planetary influences bringing nothing but stress and strain. However, the planets are now adopting a highly favourable pattern which will enable you to deal with major underlying issues in all spheres. In particular, there are some very useful financial trends on the horizon.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You've been waiting and wondering, but so much more should now begin to fit into place. What is especially at stake now are professional and worldly ambitions, and your deep desire to achieve immortality by making your unmistakable mark on the wider world.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Is there any way in which you can schedule a holiday, preferably an overseas trip, over the next month or so? At any rate, you will enjoy putting yourself in situations which are adventurous, and which will prompt you to broaden your horizons and widen your experience.

DISTRICTS ON KERALA BORDER REPORT 4.96% SPIKE IN CASELOAD

Rises from 3.35L to 3.51L in one month; travellers need to furnish negative report

RANJANI MADHAVAN @Bengaluru

OVER the past month (July 25 to August 25), there has been a cumulative 4.96 per cent increase in total Covid cases in districts bordering Kerala -- Dakshina Kannada, Kodagu, Mysuru and Chamarajanagar.

The caseload rose from 3.35 lakh to 3.51 lakh during this period. The highest increase has been in Dakshina Kannada, with a 10.53 per cent rise in the total Covid cases, as the figures went up from 98,323 to 1.08 lakh. Kodagu comes in second with a 6.90 per cent increase, as cases jumped from 32,622 to 34,874.

"For the past month, we have been screening people at the border at 17 checkpoints, two of which are major entry ways, while the others are in rural areas. Police and revenue officials are stationed there and no one from Kerala is allowed without an RT-PCR negative report, not older than 72 hours," said Dr Kishore Kumar, District Health Officer, Dakshina Kannada.

He said that RT-PCR tests are conducted on the spot, round the clock, at railway stations. Kerala students with a negative report are allowed to enter the state, but they have to observe seven days of institutional quarantine, following which they are retested. If they test positive, their primary contacts are traced and isolated.

Apart from allowing only those with negative reports into Kodagu district, 20 per cent of the travellers are put through a Rapid Antigen Test (RAT) at the border. "If found positive, they are sent back to Kerala," said Dr K Mohan, District Health Officer of Kodagu, adding that the majority of the travellers head to Bengaluru.

Though new cases have increased, the district tally in these four regions and active cases have decreased by 2.66 per cent. Only Dakshina Kannada witnessed an increase in active cases from 2,010 on July 25 to 2,780 on August 25, while Kodagu, Mysuru and Chamarajanagar saw a decrease.

"Unless there are hard borders, it is difficult to control people trying to enter the state," pointed out Dr Pradeep Banandur, a member of the Covid Technical Advisory Committee and Additional Professor, Department of Epidemiology, NIMHANS.

"People need to stop unnecessary travel and movement. Even if they test negative, they must self-quarantine while staying in Karnataka. We don't know why cases in Kerala are high and if we implement strict restrictions, it might not sit well with the other state," Dr Banandur added.

WORRYING FIGURES

DISTRICTS	TOTAL CASES ON JULY 25	TOTAL CASES ON AUGUST 25	PERCENTAGE INCREASE
Dakshina Kannada	98,323	1,08,683	10.53

STRICT VIGIL

1st dose must for all staff, BBMP tells commercial establishments

ENS @Bengaluru

IN the wake of fluctuating Covid numbers, BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta directed all staffers of commercial establishments to be vaccinated, even if it is with one dose.

At a meeting with Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, the BBMP chief said that marshals and health inspectors will regularly check to ensure everyone is following Covid norms.

"In view of the low number of daily Covid infections, the government has decided to allow operations of most commercial establishments, only after following all Covid norms. It is the duty of employers of industries, hotels, restaurants, offices to ensure all their employers are vaccinated at least with one dose by August 31, 2021," the order stated.

The order also added that all employees must carry a proof of their vaccination status and produce the same when asked.

Gupta authorised marshals and health officials to conduct inspections at commercial places from September 1.

Discussing side-effects of vaccine for 12-18 yrs age group: Gupta

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

REGULAR talks are being held with the paediatric experts committee and the technical advisory committee about the management of the third wave and the opening of schools and colleges, said Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta on Thursday.

He said, "So far, no talks or trials have been conducted for those below 12 years of age. Discussions with experts and the government are being held on the vaccination for those aged between 12-18 years, the side-effects, the trials and other issues. Hence, while checking is being done at all government educational institutions to ensure that staffers are vaccinated and premises are sanitised, the same should be done at private institutions also."

He asserted that family members and staffers of educational institutions must ensure they are jabbed and display their vaccination details also. "Preparation for the third wave is being done as per the recommendations of the paediatric committee," he added.

On the issue of the financial irregularities and supply of sweaters to schoolchildren, Gupta said the work was executed by the handlooms development corporation, hence quality should not be an issue. "Details are being sought from the education department, if there are any irregularities before taking any action," he added.

Speaking about the festive season ahead, he said, so far, 75 per cent of citizens have taken the first dose and efforts are on to ensure second dose vaccination too. Strict vigil is being kept in the border districts and testing in Bengaluru has been intensified.

On the issue of protests by opposition parties on the taxing, zoning and penalties, Gupta said the state government will take a decision on that.

9 held at border checkpost with fake reports

Mangaluru: Nine people were arrested for allegedly producing fake RT-PCR reports while entering Mangaluru from Kerala, in a span of 48 hours. Seven persons, including one who allegedly created the fake reports, were arrested in this connection. Police Commissioner N Shashikumar said seven persons were arrested on Wednesday at the Talapady inter-state border. While the four men — Abdul Thameem, Hassan, Hadil and Ismail were immediately arrested, the women — Fathimathul Mubeena, Shahana Shamsheer Begum and Ramsheeda — were later allowed to go home after they pleaded ignorance. During interrogation, the men revealed that one Kabeer, who was later arrested, had created the fake documents for them. All of them belong to Kasaragod district. ENS

Dark state: One rape a day, crimes against women on the rise

KARTHIK K K @ Mysuru

AT a time when the gang-rape of a college student at the Chamundi foothills in Mysuru is sparking widespread uproar, disturbing data has come to the fore: nearly 1,168 rape cases have been reported across various police station limits in Karnataka, from January 2019 to May 2021. An average of at least one rape a day. What is more disturbing is that 22 were gang-rapes.

Statistics from the Karnataka State Police, available with The New Indian Express, show that 18 women were raped and murdered in this time period, and that crimes against women are increasing by the year.

After the Nirbhaya case — the brutal gang-rape of a girl in a moving bus in Delhi in December 2012 — it was expected that new laws and stringent punishment for the rapists would put an end to such horrendous crimes. But data from Karnataka over just 2.5 years exposes the grim reality of inhuman sexual crimes against women.

Though guidelines and frameworks are in place to enhance the safety and security of women, such cases continue to be reported from all corners of the state, proving that women are still vulnerable to sexual crimes.

In 2019, 10,227 cases of crimes against women were reported, included molestation, abduction, dowry, pornography and other offences, with the number increasing to 10,761 cases in 2020. In 2021, till May-end, 4,401 crimes against women were reported.

Close observation of data reveals that while cases like dacoity and theft have come down after the Covid-19 outbreak and subsequent lockdown, crimes against women have not. Over 400 rape cases were reported even during the pandemic and lockdown in the state.

Experts point to a deep-seated patriarchy in society as the main reason for gender-based crimes, giving women second-class status in the country.

However, when asked if there was failure of law and order in Karnataka, Pramila Naidu, Chairperson of Karnataka State Commission for Women, categorically denied it, saying the state police were doing a good job and she had seen them working on such cases ever since she assumed charge as chairperson. However, she said she would send a report to Home Minister Araga Jnanendra to increase police patrolling and install CCTV cameras across the state.

I don't endorse Araga's views: Bommai

JNANENDRA later stressed that the victim should not have gone to a secluded place (lake at the foothills of Chamundi Hills) around 7.30 pm.

Congress leaders took strong exception to these remarks and demanded his resignation. Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) president D K Shivakumar demanded an explanation from senior BJP leaders. "We do not seek any explanation from the Home Minister for using the word 'rape' so casually. Let senior BJP leaders give an explanation about the minister's remarks," Shivakumar said, questioning the administration when the Home Minister himself is making such comments.

Shivakumar said Jnanendra's remarks showed that women were not free to go out, which indicated the BJP leader's mindset. He accused the government of not being able to nab the accused even 48 hours after the crime.

Chief Minister Bommai, who was in New Delhi on a two-day visit to meet Union ministers, disapproved of his Home Minister's remarks. "I do not endorse his views and I have asked him to clarify," the CM said.

Minutes after the CM's disapproval, Jnanendra expressed regret. "I have withdrawn the statement made earlier against the Congress leaders," he said, adding that he had no intention of hurting anybody by criticising Congress leaders who sought his resignation.

Accused demanded money from duo before assaulting them

THOUGH it had earlier emerged that the gang waylaid them while returning and had assaulted the victim's male friend, dragged her to a secluded place to sexually assault her, highly placed sources, quoting information provided by the survivor's friend, revealed that the perpetrators had also filmed the act and threatened them that they would upload it if they approached the police.

It is also said that the accused, who spoke in the local language, had demanded money and when the victim expressed inability, they assaulted the duo.

Karnataka State Women's Commission chairperson Pramila Naidu went to the hospital on Thursday to meet the victim, but was advised by doctors against it.

A highly placed source has confirmed that the cops have taken several suspects into custody, but investigating officers are tight-lipped. Based on video footage, the police are believed to have rounded up two to three suspects, who are being interrogated. However, ADGP Pratap Reddy categorically denied it and said that more details will be shared once substantial progress is made in the investigation.

NCW takes cognisance of incident

The National Commission for Women has taken cognizance of the incident and the chairperson, Rekha Sharma, has written to Director General and Inspector General of Police Praveen Sood to ensure that all the accused are arrested immediately and charged under relevant provisions of the law.

The Commission has also sought initiating process to provide necessary compensation to the survivor as per the Victim Compensation Scheme enumerated under Section 357A of Criminal Procedure Code, 1972, and has also stated that the survivor must be provided with medical and counselling support.

Somashekhar hints at rejig in Mysuru commissionerate

MYSURU: Mysuru district minister ST Somashekar, who has been camping in the city for the last two days holding a series of meetings with the police, has hinted at a major rejig in the Mysuru city police commissionerate. This statement of the minister comes in the wake of a shootout outside a jewellery shop in Mysuru on Monday that killed a man and the horrific gang-rape of a 23-year-old student on Tuesday evening. "The government will respond to the public opinion. The government has taken the gang-rape case seriously and has deputed ADGP Pratap Reddy to oversee the investigation," he said. Somashekar said Home Minister Araga Jnanendra will visit the city. He said the government will act on the basis of the ADGP's report. ENS

CM tells probe officers to report to him directly

BENGALURU: Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai is directly monitoring the progress of investigation into the Mysuru gang-rape. "Our government has taken it very seriously. I have spoken to senior police officers and instructed them to directly report to me," Bommai told reporters in New Delhi on Thursday. Bommai said he has spoken to DG&IGP Praveen Sood and ADGP Pratap Reddy, who is supervising the probe in Mysuru, and Mysuru City Police Commissioner, and directed them to take the case very seriously. "I have directed them to form special teams and expedite the probe. I have also made it clear that they must ensure that those involved in the case get stringent punishment as per law," he said. Home Minister Araga Jnanendra said that the government was committed to ensuring the safety of all sections of the society. ENS

Man arrested on charges of raping 11-year-old niece

KARWAR: An 11-year-old girl was allegedly raped by her 27-year-old uncle in Siddapura taluk of Uttara Kannada district late on Wednesday. According to the police, the girl was returning home with the accused, who took her to a secluded place and allegedly raped her. The girl, who returned home, informed her parents about the incident, and her father lodged a complaint with the Siddapura police. The 27-year-old man has been arrested, Uttara Kannada SP Shivaprakash Devraj told TNIE. The girl has been admitted to Siddapura Government Hospital and the accused has been subjected to medical tests. He will be produced before the court in Karwar on Friday, police said. ENS

15-member team to probe Tumakuru rape-murder case

TUMAKURU : Central Range IGP M Chandrashekar on Thursday visited Tumakuru and inquired about the investigation into the alleged rape and murder of a 30-year-old woman at Chotasabarapalya. As it started raining in the evening, the IGP could not visit to the crime scene. According to sources, he grilled a few police personnel over the increase in crime rate in the district. The woman was found murdered at a hillock at Chotasabarapalya near Hirehalli. She had gone to the hillock to graze cattle on Tuesday evening. The culprit had snatched her 'mangalsutra'. SP Rahul Kumar Shahapurward said a 15-member team, led by DySP H Srinivas, has been formed to crack the case.ENS

Provocative remarks: Plaints filed against KSE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Shivamogga

TWO separate police complaints have been lodged against RDPR Minister K S Eshwarappa — one by H P Girish, district president of the district Youth Congress, and another by M Praveen Kumar, general secretary, Karnataka Pradesh Youth Congress Committee, for his provocative and derogatory remarks against Congress leaders. Both complaints were filed at the Kote police station of the city.

Girish, in his complaint (No. 397/2021), referred to the minister's provocative remarks at the City BJP working committee meeting on August 8 at Mata Mangalya Mandir, and contended that it may lead to communal clashes.

Praveen Kumar has alleged that Eshwarappa, also the district minister, made derogatory remarks against Congress leaders on August 10 while addressing the media in Bengaluru. The Kote police have registered a complaint (No. 398/2021) on August 11.

Our target is 5L vax per day: CM to Centre

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai's visit to New Delhi to speak to the central leadership about miffed ministers Anand Singh and MTB Nagaraj, and to work out a solution to the Jarkiholi issue, will have to wait for now. The meeting with party president J P Nadda could not take place, and was put off to September 7.

It may be recalled that sulking minister Anand Singh had stayed away from office, and assumed duty a couple of days ago, on the basis of an explicit assurance from Bommai.

Bommai had on Thursday met Union Health Minister M Mandaviya and requested him to supply 5 lakh doses of Covid vaccine per day to the state, to which the Union minister had responded positively. Bommai said that he had told Mandaviya that Karnataka would take up vaccination a much larger scale. "Earlier, we were vaccinating about 3.5 lakh people per day, and on Wednesday, we touched 5 lakh per day, we want to vaccinate 5 lakh per day in September,'' Bommai said.

Bommai later called on Union Education Minister D Pradhan on the National Education Policy, along with ministers Govind Karjol, K Sudhakar, MP Shivakumar Udasi and others, and said he would invite Pradhan to launch the programme in Bengaluru.

Bommai, who had served as Water Resources minister, held a meeting with legal and technical experts. "I had a detailed discussion with the legal team on Supreme Court cases related to interstate river water disputes and many issues were taken up." Bommai said he had met senior advocates Shyam Diwan and Mohan Katarki on the water disputes.

On the Mekedatu issue, Bommai said it has been decided to put forth the State government's stand when the case gets listed for hearing next time. Lower riparian state Tamil Nadu is opposing the reservoir over Cauvery at Mekedatu. Bommai said the dispute over Kalasa-Banduri Nala project on Mahadayi river was also discussed, and the hearing is scheduled for September 2.

Meanwhile, Bommai said water projects being implemented in Tamil Nadu are illegal and another petition will be filed in the Supreme Court against the state.

Extension of GST compensation period sought

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday appealed to the Union Government to extend the Goods and Services Tax (GST) compensation period to states for three more years. Bommai, who met Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman in New Delhi on Thursday, said he discussed extending the GST compensation period to states beyond 2022 and also the GST dues to be paid to the state in instalments. Bommai said it would be of help if the compensation period is extended as the GST collection has not yet stabilised because of Covid-19.

The compensation loan would support the states for only the current financial year, but the impact made by the pandemic on revenue collection will be carried forward for the next few years, he said.

A statement issued by the Chief Minister's Office (CMO) said Bommai also asked Sitharaman to increase allocation to the state under the 15th Finance Commission.

The 15th Finance Commission, in its final report for 2021-26, had recommended a reduction in Karnataka's share in tax devolution to 3.647 per cent as compared to 4.71 per cent recommended by the 14th Finance Commission, he said. Bommai urged the Union Minister to reconsider the criteria for sharing of resources between the states. Bommai also said the Centre has not considered the 15th Finance Commission recommendation to award state-specific grants of Rs 6,000 crore to Karnataka for holistic improvement of water bodies of Bengaluru and Peripheral Ring Road project.

Bengaluru, the IT and start-up capital of the country, has a major contribution to the national economy and improving infrastructure in Bengaluru can help to attract more investments, Bommai said and urged the Centre to provide funds for the city's development.

Cut the red tape, Bommai tells officials

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

CRACKING down on officials for pendency of files in various departments, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai at a recent meeting with Chief Secretary Ravi Kumar and other senior bureaucrats, ordered that files be cleared as soon as possible. There have been complaints that some files have been pending for more than a year, while some important files are not cleared for over six months.

Bommai, who has indicated his dislike of red tapism, said he will shortly hold a meeting on pendency and clearance of files with all departments and bureaucrats. Department of Personnel and Administrative Reforms (DPAR) Secretary Munish Moudgil passed an order on Tuesday to all heads of departments, saying pending files need to be cleared immediately. The order says that all old files need to be identified and cleared. The files are to be separated into three categories: older than one year (100 per cent), older than 6 months (50 per cent) and older than one month, on which no action has been taken. Officials also have to accord reasons for failure to clear the files.

Officials in the Vidhana Soudha, though, are unperturbed by this urgency over file clearance, and say such orders on bureaucratic red tape have been issued time and again for at least four decades. They recall a memorable exercise of file-clearing when then CM Gundu Rao had passed an order that no visitors will be allowed into Vidhana Soudha till all files are cleared. The file clearance drill lasted a few days.

Former CM B S Yediyurappa had orally instructed officials to ensure there is no unnecessary pendency of files. A reliable source said this does not mean that all old files are cleared or dumped, for some projects go on for years, and files are a record of progress of work. Insiders say that with the next legislative session just three weeks away, Bommai is trying to ensure the opposition has no ammunition and no one can point a finger at his government over red tape.

JUDGES STROVE TO PROTECT RIGHTS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

KARNATAKA High Court Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka, who is among the nine judges to be elevated to the Supreme Court, has played a significant role in upholding the rights of citizens, farmers and other litigants.

He prodded the state to take a policy decision on paying compensation of Rs 5 lakh to families of farmers who committed suicide unable to pay debts obtained from private money lenders. Till then, the government was paying compensation only in case of loans obtained from banks.

He also took up the matter of interim compensation to victims of the Chamarajanagar oxygen tragedy. This apart, his other major judgments include on manual scavenging, protection of child rights, 1 per cent reservation for transgenders in government jobs.

When a few Bar Associations boycotted courts, he told them, "We are working for the common man.. if proceedings are boycotted, litigants will suffer". He also got judges to use the term 'trial courts' instead of 'lower courts'.

Justice Oka also passed orders on several issues like cutting of trees, noise and lake pollution.

Justice B V Nagarathna, who has been elevated to the Supreme Court, is the third senior judge of Karnataka High Court. A bench headed by her had struck down a rule in the Karnataka Municipal Election Rules by upholding the notification of the state that there is no infirmity in reserving seats for women for the president and vice-president posts, thereby negating an argument that there cannot be reservation for women in both posts.

The bench had also directed the government to set up special courts to try cases booked under POCSO Act. She struck down lifetime tax on motor vehicles and amendment introducing domicile reservation in National Law School of India University (NLSIU) holding it to be a national level institution and preserving its autonomy.

Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka (above) and Justice BV Nagarathna

Very recently, she held that illegitimate children are also entitled to be considered for compassionate appointment. In another judgment, she directed to refund Forest Direct Tax collected without authority of law and against Article 265.

The bench headed by her delivered many other important judgments in matters like land acquisition, administrative law, service and labour, tax and revenue, environment, Constitutional and fundamental rights, banking and commercial law, criminal law, motor vehicles and family law.

Covid-related PILs

Justice Nagarathna, who was also the part of benches dealing with Covid-related PILs, potholes, solid waste management, is currently the president of Karnataka Judicial Academy, chairperson of Juvenile Justice Committee and Committee Overseeing Implementation of POCSO Act.

Born to former CJI Justice E S Venkataramaiah and Padma in October 30, 1962, Justice Nagarathna had her schooling in Benglauru and further studies in New Delhi. She started practice as a lawyer in 1987.

HC quashes BSF's order on transfer of SI to Kashmir

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court quashed the movement order passed by the BSF to transfer a Sub-Inspector from Bengaluru to Kashmir. Justice M Nagaprasanna passed the order quashing the transfer order.

Sub-Inspector Shivaji Bajantri (General Duty), 62 Batallion, moved court to quash the movement order dated January 9, 2021, passed to transfer him to Kashmir. "The wife of the petitioner, being a patient of cancer, though having suffered cancer in 2009 which is not in dispute, is under treatment even today in Bengaluru. It is always said that once a patient of cancer, is always a carcinoma patient and the petitioner himself being downgraded under low medical category, is entitled to protection under the Rules. Therefore, the BSF ought to have deployed a streak of sympathy in the peculiar facts of the case of the petitioner," the judge said.

Karnataka state government has decided to start first-grade evening colleges in 11 cities on a trial basis from the current academic year under the government-sponsored Sandhya Shakti Project

TN okays 7.5% quota for govt students

Reservation in professional courses at govt, aided and private colleges from this year

BINITA JAISWAL @Chennai

WEEKS after the Tamil Nadu government announced that it would introduce a 7.5 per cent horizontal reservation for government school students in admissions to professional courses, the State Assembly on Thursday enacted a law providing the quota. Officials from the Higher Education Department said that the reservation will be implemented in this year's admissions. The streams covered in the quota are engineering, agriculture, veterinary, law, and other professional courses offered in government, aided, and private colleges in the State.

INSTITUTIONS

"Government students competing with those from private schools are struggling to access higher education of their choice," said Chief Minister MK Stalin, introducing Bill in the Assembly. He attributed this to the socio-economic disparity as mostly it is students from disadvantaged backgrounds that study in government schools. Stalin said that a mere 0.83 per cent of the students admitted to Anna University last year were from government schools. The figure is just 0.44 per cent in aided engineering colleges and 6.31 per cent when all government higher education institutions are considered.

Speaking to Express, D Karthikeyan, Higher Education Secretary, said, "As the Bill was unanimously passed in the Assembly, there is absolutely no hurdle in implementing it from this academic year." According to Higher Education officials, the special reservation will benefit over 30,000 government school students. Only those who had studied from class 6 to 12 in a government school in the State can avail this benefit.

Last year, the previous AIADMK regime had introduced a similar 7.5 per cent reservation for government school students for admissions to undergraduate medical courses on the ground that the NEET made it harder for students from disadvantaged backgrounds to pursue medical education.

However, the government's move has not gone well with a few private schools as they feel it will reduce opportunities for their students.

TTD begins trial run of Sampradaya Bhojanam

The Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams (TTD) commenced the trail run of serving 'Sampradaya Bhojanam' (traditional meal) prepared using organic products. The first meal with 14 varieties made of organic and natural farming produce was served to the pilgrims at the Annamayya Bhavan in Tirumala on Thursday. The trial run will be held for eight days, till September 2.

'Festivals may spawn clusters'

DR MK Sudarshan, chairman, Technical Advisory Committee, said the committee has recommended stricter measures in districts with more than 2 per cent positivity rate (including Dakshina Kannada). "We cannot allow festivals, fairs, darshans, pujas and public congregations of any sort. People can celebrate within their homes," he said.

Dr C N Manjunath, member of state Covid Technical Advisory Committee (TAC) and director of Sri Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences and Research, warned that these festivals could become potential super-spreaders if a large number of people are allowed to celebrate together.

Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Minister K S Eshwarappa said Ganesha Chaturthi is 15 days away, and depending on the situation, the government will take a decision on whether to allow celebrations.

Scindia writes to Bommai over aviation infra

ENS @ Bengaluru

AS the Airports Authority of India (AAI) has embarked upon the development and expansion of airports, Union Minister of Civil Aviation Jyotiraditya Scindia has sought Karnataka Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai's intervention for strengthening aviation infrastructure in the state.

Scindia has written to Bommai requesting his intervention in expediting projects to strengthen aviation infrastructure in Karnataka, read a statement issued by the Civil Aviation Ministry.

Scindia has drawn Bommai's attention to the airport projects in Belagavi, Mysuru, Shivamogga and Vijayapura. AAI has projected land requirement of 370 acres at Belagavi airport, out of which 348.6 acres have been handed over and in Mysuru, the AAI has requisitioned for allocation of 240 acres, but it is yet to be handed over by the state government, the statement said. An amount of Rs. 7.55 crore is outstanding on part of the State Government, the statement added.

Haritha unmoved by 'compromise'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kozhikode

LEADERS of Haritha, the girls' wing of Muslim League's student outfit, have dismissed the "compromise solution" announced by the League on Thursday to resolve the issue with their parent outfit MSF.

According to the solution announced by the IUML, the accused leaders of Muslim Students Federation (MSF) would express regret for their remarks against Haritha leaders and, in return, the girls' outfit would withdraw their complaint to the State Women's Commission. As part of the compromise, IUML will also revoke the freezing of the Haritha state committee.

The solution was claimed to be reached in a meeting held at the IUML's district office in Malappuram on Wednesday in the presence of P K Kunhalikutty, E T Muhammed Basheer, M K Muneer, Sadikali Shihab Thangal and P M A Salam. But Haritha leaders later expressed their firm position that they would not withdraw the complaint till they got justice.

As per the release issued by MSF acting general secretary Salam on Thursday, the alleged derogatory remarks by student leaders were unintentional but they would express regret through their Facebook pages. Three MSF leaders – state president P K Navas, Malappuram district president Kabeer Muthuparamba and district general secretary V Abdul Vahab -- would express regret. "A special cell will be set up to facilitate a friendly working atmosphere for MSF and Haritha leaders in the future," said League's state acting general secretary Salam.

Meanwhile, Navas said in his Facebook post that he did not say anything with bad intention against Haritha leaders, but if someone was offended, he regretted that.

But Haritha leaders said they were unhappy with the talks on Wednesday and they had conveyed the same to the IUML leaders.

CBI books two hotels for loan fraud

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad

THE Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) has booked promoters of two hotels-Saptarshi Hotels and Maha Hotels Projects for an alleged loan fraud of over Rs 159 crore.

The CBI said the companies, accused in the case, had misappropriated funds loaned by the Punjab National Bank and the Punjab & Sind Bank by diverting them away for their personal ends.

As per the complaint filed by the banks, Maha Hotel Projects Pvt. and its promoters representing Saptarishi Hotels were sanctioned a credit facility of Rs.108.67 crore by Punjab National Bank and Rs. 96.33 crore by Punjab & Sind Bank, a total of Rs.205 crore term loan, from a consortium of banks led by Punjab National Bank but failed to furnish required securities to secure a timely repayment of the loan.

The companies had presented the bank with their projected financials including revenue cash flow.

4 of family attempt suicide, drive into Bhadra canal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chikkamagaluru

FOUR members of a family attempted suicide by driving their car into the Bhadra canal on Wednesday. The incident reportedly took place near Malali Channenahalli in Tarikere taluk at 1 am on Wednesday night.

The members of the familyhave been identified as Manju, his mother Sunandamma, wife Neetu and 13-year-old son Dhyan. They hailed from Hale Jedikatte in Bhadravathi taluk in Shivamogga district. In a voice message sent a short while before the suicide attempt, they had said that mental agony had driven them to take this extreme step.

Neetu and her son Dhyan are said to be safe and out of danger, while the bodies of Manju and his mother Sunadamma could not be traced. It is believed that they might have been swept away in the current of Bhadra canal water.

Tarikere police and Fire tender officials are making efforts to trace the missing bodies.

Meanwhile, Chikkamagaluru Superintendent of Police MH Akshay visited the spot on Thursday morning. The exact reason for the suicide attempt is yet to be ascertained. Investigation is on.

Under pressure, revenue inspector jumps into canal

ENS @ Chikkamagaluru

A revenue inspector of Lakkavalli hobli in Tarikere taluk, allegedly harassed by a member of the Akrama-Sakrama samiti, committed suicide on wednesday by jumping into the Bhadra canal. The deceased has been identified as Somashekar and has left behind a death note, accusing some known political persons who were pressurising him to bypass government rules in their favour. Somasheka,r who was working as a village accountant in Balehonnur was recently promoted as revenue inspector and posted to Lakkavali revenue range. In his death note, he has accused that one Dhanapal, member of the local Akrama-Sakrama commmittee, was forcing him to regularise the encroached grasslands.

WAY FORWARD TO SPUR SALES AMID HIGH AUTO SECTOR TAXES

Despondency seems to be overloading India's auto manufacturing circuitry. On Wednesday, the sector's bigwigs brought out the chasm between the Centre's intent and actions in full public view. Further, in what was unpleasant noise for policymakers, they wondered about the logic of taxing two-wheelers and SUVs alike. Giving a finishing touch, they sought an immediate reduction in taxes to aid the sector's revival. Per estimates, a GST rate of 29-50% implies that vehicle ownership cost per capita income is 450%—much higher than other countries. Moreover, high vehicle registration fee and the mandatory three-year insurance cover as against the previous one-year norm keep vehicle acquisition costs high.

But the government reasoned that there was no surefire clue if tax cuts would lead to a corresponding surge in sales and that taxes were already lower than the pre-GST period. What the officials seldom admit to is the government's role in accentuating the industry's troubles. Just ahead of the GST rollout, the Centre forced automakers to jump through hoops and transition to BS VI emission norms, which required huge investments at a time when interest rates were steep and came amid a looming NBFC crisis. The most damning of all was the slowdown; policymakers neither saw it coming, nor did they confirmed its arrival.

It's true that tax cuts barely reduce the vehicle's on-road cost and given the high input prices, automakers can't afford any huge discounts to spur sales. What actually needs to improve is the stagnating incomes. For instance, an entry-level IT employee earns ₹2.5-3 lakh per annum, much the same as last decade. Worse, the Covid-19 pandemic delivered a savage blow to households with job losses and salary cuts. Unless incomes improve, consumption, chiefly discretionary spending, will continue to sulk. And until demand picks up, companies will sit upon their hands. So, it's all down to the government to make up for the slack in private investment and increase capex, which alone can restart the economic engine.

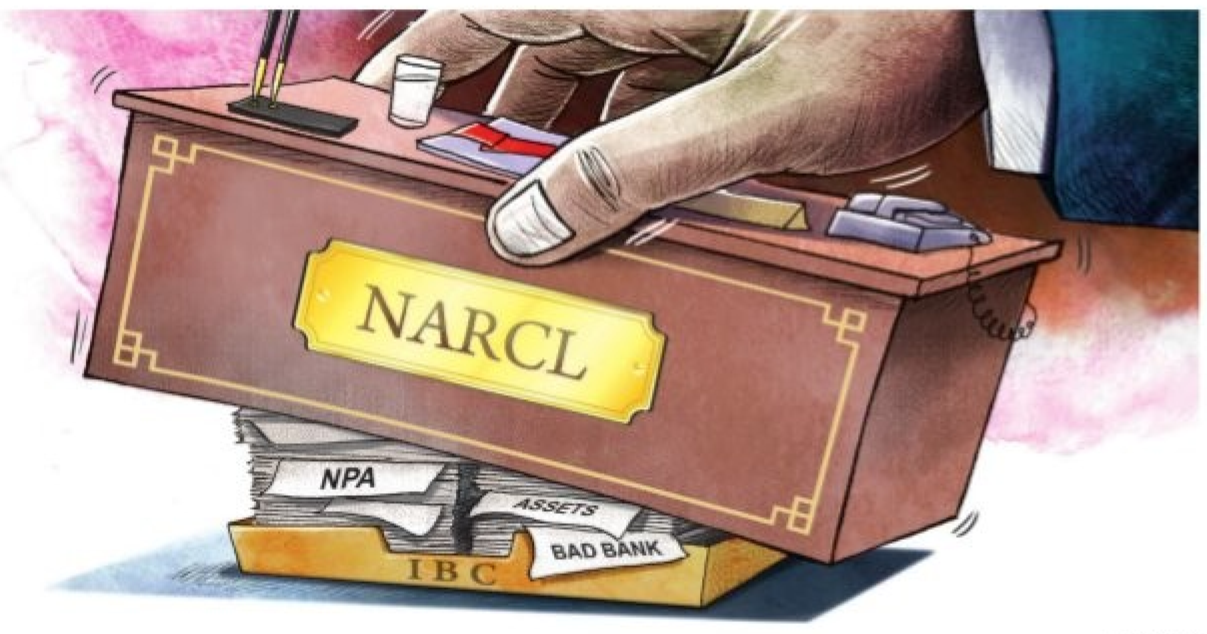
K'TAKA'S RENEWABLE ENERGY PUSH

By moving away from thermal power production, Karnataka is taking a progressive step, in keeping with its green strategy set in motion around seven years ago. The plan to phase out thermal power plants is a welcome step, triggered by the Central government's Budget announcement to gradually move towards clean energy. Thermal and hydel plants in Karnataka continue to meet the bulk of energy demands, with the major thermal plants of Raichur, Bellary and Yeramarus accounting for a gross generation of 10,362 GWh per annum. While the aged units do not function to full capacity, they also fail to conform to green standards. These coal-fired plants, which emit sulphur dioxide, mercury and fly ash into the atmosphere, are water-intensive too—a combination that spells disaster for an increasingly fragile ecosystem. The government, which was scrambling to ensure that the plants meet carbon emission norms, requires investment running into crores of rupees, pushing up maintenance costs. Instead, the state should invest in more viable renewable energy options.

Karnataka is one of the few states with a well-formulated green policy and is ahead of the curve on this count. As an early adopter of renewable energy sources, the state is rich in wind farms and is the leader in harnessing solar energy, generating 7,346 MW in its various solar parks. Solar energy now meets 20% of daily power needs and holds the promise of cheap power bills for the citizen. In keeping with its policy, the state should encourage clean energy generation, providing entrepreneurs with incentives, subsidies and cheap land, to achieve the national goal of keeping global warming below 2°C of pre-industrial levels. In fact, every state should look towards renewable energy to keep the environment clean and act in a concerted manner to lower emissions and temperatures. At a time when damning reports of climate change come as harbingers of disaster, we should swiftly move towards change. Annual floods, landslides and searing summers are signs of a change for the worse, as is the first-ever rain on the peak of Greenland's ice sheet.

The biggest issue with the NARCL is that it will be owned largely by public sector banks and have its management drawn mostly from them

WILL THE BAD BANK HELP IN RESOLVING OUR NPA PROBLEM?



AMIT BANDRE

PROSENJIT DATTA

Senior business journalist

India's "Bad Bank" has taken one more step towards reality. The Indian Banks Association (IBA) has moved the RBI for a license for the National Asset Reconstruction Company Ltd (NARCL) that was incorporated a little earlier. According to reports, P M Nair, a stressed asset expert from the State Bank of India (SBI), has been pulled in as managing director. Three other veteran public sector banking executives are on the board. Once the NARCL starts operating properly, it is likely to pull in more veteran PSU bankers in appropriate roles.

The asset reconstruction company will have an asset management company (AMC) under it to manage the assets taken over. The plan is that initially, 22 bad loan accounts worth ₹89,000 crore will be transferred to the NARCL.

Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman had talked about the bad bank in her budget speech. The bad bank idea in fact has been kicked around in the finance ministry for some time now.

Why was a bad bank needed when we have the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC) as well as the various asset reconstruction companies (ARCs) set up during the older Securities and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Securities Interest (SARFAESI) Act? The older ARCs and the SARFAESI Act are still very much around.

Presumably the Finance Ministry and the PSBs wanted one more option to get rid of their bad debt and clean up their books. The IBC of late is following the law of diminishing returns—after the initial success of selling a few big steel mills and other good assets, where the lenders recovered well over 50% of their dues, things have gone downhill. In some high-profile cases, such as Videocon, Ruchi Soya and Jet Airways, the lenders have hardly recovered 5-6% of their dues. Also, too many cases and too few NCLT judges have meant pile-ups and most resolutions taking twice the time limit originally set under the IBC.

Meanwhile the asset construction route has also run into issues. Here too the recoveries have slowed and the ARCs are also facing capital issues. Their security receipts are being downgraded by rating agencies as the recovery expectations move downwards. The ARCs are also reluctant to take up NPAs unless offered very steep discounts.

The NARCL will probably take over the loans at book value net of provisioning, and not bid for it like other ARCs. Though banks have fully provisioned for these loans, they are still likely to get a better deal from the NARCL than what the other ARCs would have offered.

So will the NARCL work better for banks than other existing solutions available to them? Only if you think that transferring the NPAs out to another entity that you partially own is solving the problem. The bad loan accounts will be off the books of the bank. But whether the NARCL will be able to actually find investors for them is less certain. Bad banks have worked in some other countries. But that comes with a caveat—the conditions in those countries were far different from what we are trying out here.

The big problem with the current NARCL proposal is that it has many cons and not enough pros going for it. The biggest problem is that it will be owned largely by public sector banks and have its management drawn mostly from them. It is hard to think that if the banks could not dispose of the bad debt easily under them, the NARCL will have better success. Also, the PSBs will be both shareholders and customers—and it leads to the danger of the bad bank being nothing more than a means to shift some bad debt from one book to another.

The bigger issue is that physical assets tend to deteriorate soon while service assets tend to become valueless after some time, unless run by a very professional management. This has been a recurring problem in the IBC process where pressing the bankruptcy solution too late has meant that there is little value left that will attract bidders. The NPAs that the NARCL will handle are all old, legacy assets and probably there is little residual value left in them.

Finally, it is not clear whether the bad bank has a finite end date—that is, it is a one-time solution—or whether it will continue to exist forever as another option for banks. In the US and other countries, the bad banks typically had a sunset clause and worked with a finite timeline in mind. In fact, the success of bad banks abroad too has depended on speedy disposal instead of trying to manage them until they got the best price.

It is hard to see what advantages the NARCL will have over the IBC process in India in resolving big bad NPAs. For the banks themselves, this would only provide a temporary reprieve. The bad bank will not help in preventing future NPAs—and that is something to which little attention is being devoted by either the government or the PSBs.

THE REALITY OF MENTAL HEALTH: BEYOND THE BUZZ

DR AISHWARIYA JHA

DR DEBANJAN BANERJEE

Psychiatrists, National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences, Bengaluru

A conservative estimate is that one in five people in India suffers from a mental illness in their lifetime. Depression is a leading contributor to the mental health burden in the country. Suicide is one of the major causes of death and an estimate by the World Health Organization (WHO) in 2019 was that one person dies by suicide in India every four minutes. Not surprisingly, then, it was found that India has the highest suicide rate in the world among the 15 to 29 age group. Unfortunately, however, approximately 85% of these people don't receive the care they need, according to the National Mental Health Survey (NMHS) of 2015-2016.

These people are not mere numbers. The statistics indicate that mental health problems are not just big words in textbooks; they exist in our social circles, in our families and sometimes within us.

With the Covid-19 pandemic, it is important now more than ever to look around us and within ourselves to acknowledge the importance of mental health and wellbeing. It is everybody's business because it is vital to everybody's health. Time and again, this WHO statement resonates: "There is no health without mental health." But, do we really mean it?

What is the buzz?:

Unfortunately, conversations around mental illness in the past have been mired in shame, silence and stigma. Traditional media and their portrayal of mental illnesses have only contributed to the negative stereotypes. And for a very long time, our understanding of mental illness began and ended there—mentally ill persons were said to be unpredictable and dangerous, their treatment involved mind-altering medication and electric shock therapy, they were to be locked away and prevented from harming society.

Knowledge, education and the right information have the power to release us from the shackles of stigma and generate sensitivity and understanding in our societies. As common as some mental illnesses are, they often take a backseat in the discourse about mental health and people are believed to be suffering only when they need medication or professional therapy. Denial of common forms of mental illnesses and their stigmatisation only delay help-seeking and treatment.

With the continued growth of the internet, the rise of social media and the novel circumstances created by the pandemic, the good news is that we are talking about mental health a lot more now. The bad news is, it's not always contextual or for the right reasons.

While discourse is encouraged and the spread of information is uplifting, we wonder if we still have a long way to go in our understanding of mental health. Sure, the knowledge on mental illnesses is improving—but is it enough?

The WHO's definition of health states that it is not merely the absence of disease. Similarly, mental health is not just the absence of mental illness. Therefore, as we continue in our efforts as a society to learn and talk more about mental illnesses, let us also delve into mental well-being and the preventive aspects of mental health.

Physical injury is visible, diabetes is measurable, mental illness is neither:

Because mental health is not quantifiable or apparent, it is many times overlooked. A situation commonly encountered these days is impaired sugars or impaired glucose tolerance—when an individual's sugars are higher than that of a healthy person's but not quite high enough to diagnose them with diabetes. Without these levels and parameters, is there a grey area for common mental illnesses as well? Is there a method for prioritisation of mental well-being and, when possible, prevention of the problem altogether? Like physical health, mental health may exist on a spectrum between wellness and illness.

When we hear of someone suffering from a mental illness, we often try to decode the immediate triggers that led them to have these problems: Did they lose a job? Have they encountered problems at home? And while triggers are important, in our discourse, we often lose sight of the distal factors, their vulnerabilities, their ability to access help in the past, their mental well-being for many years leading up to their apparent suffering and most importantly, their support system. Hence, at all levels (individual, community and administrative), we need to understand and advocate for mental health as having emotional as well as social components.

How do we focus on our mental well-being?:

Similar to physical health, mental well-being can also be strengthened by these factors. Connecting with those around us, spending time with supportive people and having meaningful conversations with them can be energising. There are many studies to support the association between social participation and decreased rates of depression across age groups. Being active, learning new skills, taking on new responsibilities and reflecting on our mental health needs improve awareness. Volunteering, giving and being kind can also uplift one's mood and contribute to better mental health. Learning to connect and care for ourselves, setting healthy boundaries and observing patterns of what makes us feel good and what doesn't can improve awareness about our mental health status. Stress is normal, especially in the surreal times of the pandemic. However, taking a hold on the stress through lifestyle changes and professional help will prevent it from developing into full-blown and severe mental disorders.

When do we seek help or provide others with the opportunity to do so?:

These were measures to maintain healthy minds. But just like we would not advocate exercise to someone with a physical injury, we should be mindful when advising someone suffering from a mental illness.

Sometimes, people need help in recognising these feelings, thoughts or behaviours, and there is nothing wrong with asking for it. When these feelings become overwhelming and start to affect how we function, perform or interact with others, it is important to seek professional help and realise that we are not to blame. These overwhelming feelings can be brought on by an event in our lives and sometimes for simply no apparent reason at all. At this time, it is common to become withdrawn, fear being judged and poorly understood.

Thus, it becomes our responsibility to create a non-judgemental and well-informed atmosphere for such individuals so that they can speak out about their overwhelming feelings and ultimately get help like one would for a physical illness. Charity begins at home and so being aware of one's own mental wellbeing paves the path for helping others. To end with Swami Vivekananda's evergreen words: "Any action that strengthens the mind is an action worth taking."

Preserve natural resources

This is with reference to The reality of climate change & what must be done (Aug 26). Nature can support human needs but not our greed. In the development rat race, countries are exploiting natural resources and humanity is facing nature's fury. If we want to preserve natural resources for future generations, we must believe in simple living and high thinking, which is the crux of Eastern philosophy.

Ram Saran Singh, Bengaluru

Climate justice

Climate change is real and it is experienced across nations today. In this context it is worth mentioning that we have to stick to India's climate justice suggestions. We have to push forward the idea of sharing prosperity through the intergovernmental mechanism with the involvement of the private sector in areas like solar energy and agricultural research, especially in identifying climate resistant varieties of food crops.

S K Prakash, Chennai

Stop hedonism

The adverse consequences of climate change endanger all living beings. Stopping or reducing it is not unachievable, for when Covid struck and as we were confined to our dwellings, wonders occurred and pollution reduced a lot. As the writer says, hedonism must be annihilated.

Third wave and schools

States need to be very careful and if necessary, have a rethink on opening up of educational institutions. There are predictions by experts of an imminent third wave. A life lost cannot be got back. Further, authorities can look into whether wearing two masks helps.

SC benches in all regions

This is with reference to Constitution Bench cases piling up SC's big concern (Aug 22). Perhaps in addition to the Supreme Court, we need to have a Constitution Court to deal with such cases. Further, it is also time to have SC benches in different regions of India.

Kerala's past & trade links

The article A country Of many Gods: Visitor's book (July 27) is praiseworthy. The author substantiates Kerala's links with the West with solid proofs. It also pours light into the ancient past of our state and digs out the roots of it that lie deep in our epics and trade history.

Brittle middle order

After the victory at Lord's, the Indian cricket team has given the Leeds Test to England on a platter. The brittle middle order again collapsed and the team was out for a paltry 78 in the first innings.

Devadas V, Kannur

Dismal batting again

The Indian batsmen continued their dismal show. Though the team won at Lord's, it was thanks to the bowlers who also batted well. Also one fails to understand the logic behind choosing to bat first on a moisture-laden surface when we have a very good bowling unit.

Protection from arrest for Chhattisgarh IPS officer in sedition case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court has expressed concern over the emerging trend of police officers facing sedition charges following change of guard in their respective state governments. Chief Justice of India NV Ramana said this must stop, while granting protection to Chhattisgarh IPS officer Gurjinder Pal Singh after a a sedition case was filed against him.

The CJI said as long as a police officer sides with the party in power, things are smooth. However, if the party loses power, sedition and other charges are slapped against them by the new party in power.

The observation came when the the court was hearing Singh's plea after a sedition case was filed against him under Section 124A of Indian Penal Code based on a complaint by the Anti-corruption Bureau. Singh had filed the petition challenging an order of the Chhattisgarh High Court which refused to quash the FIR for sedition against him. The top court, while issuing the notice, also granted him protection from arrest for four weeks.

The police had registered a sedition case against Singh, based on a written complaint filed by the Anti-corruption Bureau after preliminary findings into complaints that he had allegedly amassed disproportionate assets. The anti-graft body reportedly seized alleged documents from Singh that were suggestive of a conspiracy against the government.

The Kotwali Police Station has registered the case under Sections 124-A, 153-A (sedition and treason) of IPC against the 1994 batch IPS officer, who was earlier suspended by the state government on July 5.

The ACB sleuths carried out raids for three days at 15 premises and properties linked to the IPS officer, following complaints over disproportionate assets. The top court is already seized of seven petitions considering the Constitutional validity of Section 124A which criminalises sedition.

The bench expressed displeasure over the trend of filing of sedition cases just after senior advocate FS Nariman made opening submissions on behalf of Singh, saying "the gentleman has served as the Additional Director General of Police and was acting as the Director of the Police Academy and now the proceedings under section 124A of the IPC have been initiated against him".

The bench, which also comprised Justice Surya Kant, directed the Congress-led government not to arrest Singh for four weeks. It directed Singh to cooperate with the agencies.

Supreme Court slams Tihar jail superintendent

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday came down heavily on the Superintendent of the Tihar jail for allegedly colluding with Unitech promoters, Sanjay Chandra and Ajay Chandra in engaging in illegal activities by flouting the jail manual, dissipating proceedings, derailing investigation, in the Unitech money laundering case. This was after ED told the Court that the Unitech promoters were found operating from inside the Tihar jail and were carrying out various transactions from there.

A bench of Justices DY Chandrachud and MR Shah proceeded to say that it was shameless for authorities to facilitate the same for accused and proceeded to order that the Chandra brothers be shifted out of Tihar jail to Mumbai. The court also directed that the two brothers be lodged separately, one in Taloja jail and the other in the Arthur Road jail. The court also asked why the Commissioner, Delhi Police has not taken any action for 10 days despite the communication by the ED to him making certain allegations against the jail staff. The bench directed the Commissioner to personally carry out an inquiry into the same and submit a report within 4 weeks.

Vax pace improves, target distant still

Average daily vaccination this month till August 25 52,77,478

COVID-19 vaccination in India started on a disappointing note this month, with just 17,96,253 doses administered on Day 1. It seems to have picked up pace, with nearly 52.8 lakh doses given on an average in the last 25 days.

The rate of daily vaccinations, however, remains inadequate with only 15% of the adult population of India covered with two doses and the country looking far from its target of vaccinating all above 18 by the end of the year.

A look at the CoWIN dashboard maintained by the National Health Authority shows from August 1-25, over 13 crore doses were administered with an daily average of 52, 77,478.

In a briefing on Thursday, Union Health Secretary Rajesh Bhushan shared that while 50% of adults in India have received at least one shot, percentage of people having received both is 15.

Public health specialists estimate that India now needs to vaccinate nearly 1 crore people every day to achieve the target of vaccinating about 94 crore adults by December. Maximum shots given on a day in the country remain under the 93 lakh mark and on August 16, a record 92.39 lakh people had received the jabs. Only on another occasion, this figure crossed 80 lakh.

Despite the Centre's assurances, supply constraints as well as vaccine hesitancy in smaller towns remain major concerns. An issue that has emerged as a headache for the health ministry is many people due for their second doses are dropping out. This came up for discussion between the Centre and states during a review meeting on vaccination on Wednesday.

For August, while various government authorities had projected that nearly 15 crore doses of Covishield, 3-4 crore doses of Covaxin and 1 crore doses of Sputnik V are to be available — actual numbers could be far lesser. Going by daily averages, it is possible that total vaccinations would barely cross 16 crore.

In a good move, the Centre announced that 2 crore doses, for school teachers and support staff, will be sent to states between August 27-31. These doses are to be used for teachers' vaccination, preferably before September 5.

Reducing Covishield gap to be discussed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

THE National Technical Advisory Group on Immunisation is set to take up the issue of reducing the gap between two doses of Covishield in an upcoming meeting, government sources said.

Since May, a 12-16 week gap between two doses of Covishield has been recommended. Earlier, this gap was 4-8 weeks. Government authorities had insisted the change had been made following mass vaccinations in the UK, which showed that the larger gap between two doses of AstraZeneca — available in India under the brand name of Covishield — raised its efficacy.

There were, however, speculations that the move was aimed at covering up the vaccine shortage in India. Though Covishield has been the lynchpin of India's Covid vaccination drive so far, with its monthly production capacity of 10 crore doses, its supply has remained inadequate to fulfil the huge demand.

Meanwhile, on a day India reported 46,164 fresh cases, the highest since early July, the health ministry highlighted that 58% of these cases were from Kerala. The government warned against dropping guards as the festive season approaches, bringing the threat of pushing the cases northwards. Union Health Secretary Rajesh Bhushan said except for Kerala, rest of the states are exhibiting a declining trend in case counts.

"Kerala is the only state reporting over 1 lakh active cases, while four states have 10,000 to 1 lakh active cases," Bhushan said.

SC asks states to ensure pvt school education for Covid orphans this year

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday directed the state governments to ensure that the education of children, who became orphans after the onset of the Covid-19 pandemic, in private schools continue without disruption at least during the present academic year. The court said the schools can be asked to waive fees or the states can bear half the fee for these children.

The states were directed to act in cohesion with Child Welfare Committees and District Education Officers while deliberating with private schools where these children are studying. A bench of Justices L Nageswara Rao and Aniruddha Bose passed this direction in the suo motu case taken to deal with the issue of children affected by Covid.

"State governments shall also take steps to ensure education of children who have lost their parents is not disrupted for this academic year. Identification of children who have lost both or one parent is a starting point to find out the needs of distressed children," the bench said.

The judges underlined that delay in uploading information in the Bal Swaraj Portal of the National Commission for the Protection of Child Rights would be detrimental to their interest. The child body has told the court that more than 100,000 children lost one or both parents during the pandemic.

The affidavit by NCPCR stated 101,032 children were abandoned, became orphans or lost one of their parents between April 1, 2020 and August 23, 2021. Of this, there were 8,161 orphans, 396 were abandoned and 92,475 lost one of their parents. During the last hearing, West Bengal was pulled up for not presenting clear figures. The present NCPCR affidavit showed West Bengal has 308 orphans and 6,270 who lost one parent.

It will also look into socio-economic impact of the scheme on lives of beneficiaries and challenges faced by stakeholders. CLSS has reached out to nearly 16 lakh people and funds of more than `36,000 crore have been sanctioned.

DU backs author exclusions, not all are convinced

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

A day after controversy erupted over the exclusion of works by two Dalit writers and a short story by Mahasweta Devi from its English syllabus, Delhi University's administration insisted that the criticism was "misplaced and unfounded".

DU's oversight committee had removed two Dalit feminist writers — Bama and Sukhirtharini — from the women's writing course and dropped an acclaimed short story called Draupadi by Mahasweta Devi from its BA English syllabus.

Fifteen members of the university's academic council had on Wednesday submitted a note of dissent to the university administration, calling these changes arbitrary and "casteist".

"A careful perusal of the present syllabus clearly brings out the inclusive nature of the syllabus under reference in terms of its diversity of content and inclusion of pioneering works of various renowned scholars of both national and international fame without consideration of their religion, caste and creed as, according to the university, excellence in academia is not subservient to these attributes," said a DU statement, signed by registrar Vikas Gupta.

Following the statement, Abha Dev Habib, treasurer of Delhi University Teachers' Association, said defence of the oversight committee is evidence that the administration is complicit in unethical and unacademic chopping of authors.

"It is a matter of extreme shame and concern that the oversight committee comprising senior academics has become an instrument to impose censorship on courses and readings as per the diktat of RSS-BJP," she said.

Three other members of the academic council issued a statement saying that classroom space should be sensitive to social, economic and cultural diversities of places students come from and that includes a curriculum with representation to the marginal voices.

World fears rise in Af drugs trafficking

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

IN the midst of the humanitarian crisis in Afghanistan, there is growing concern in the international community including Iran, Central and South Asia, Russia, Europe and Canada, regarding trafficking of opium and methamphetamine from the country.

With Kabul falling to the Taliban, there are concerns that cuts in global economic aid to Afghanistan will further entrench its illicit drug economy. While the Taliban spokesman Zabihullah Mujahid promised the new government will not allow Afghanistan to turn into a narco-state, Vanda Felbab-Brown, director of The Brookings Institution's Initiative on Non-state Armed Actors, in her recent research on 'Drugs, Security and Counter-narcotics policies in Afghanistan,' cautioned that there is a "substantial possibility that peace in which the Taliban is the pre-dominant actor will result in donors cutting off economic aid to Afghanistan, resulting in a significantly worsened economic and humanitarian situation overall, as well as a further entrenched drug economy."

SERIOUS ISSUE, NOT REALLY ADDRESSED

Although the global trade in illicit Afghan opiates has become one of the world's biggest transnational drug and crime threats, the US and allied nations have rarely addressed this in public

The latest United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC) report has stated that "Afghanistan is the world's largest producer of opium and accounts for 85% of the global opium production in 2020."

Illicit Afghan opiates are trafficked through the Balkan, northern and southern routes. Even as there are concerns about a 37% increase in the amount of land used for illicit cultivation of opium poppy in Afghanistan during 2020, the UNODC report stated, "Afghanistan is also now becoming a major source for methamphetamine in the region. In Iran in its neighbourhood, the proportion of Afghan-origin methamphetamine seized increased from less than 10% in 2015 to around 90% in 2019."

Exercise Malabar gets under way

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

EXERCISE Malabar began on Thursday. It is an important maritime exercise featuring the navies of the US, India, Japan and Australia, the group informally called QUAD.

"Indian Navy is participating in the sea phase of Exercise Malabar from 26-29 August," said a statement. The Navy says it is a testimony to the synergy between these navies and their shared vision for a free and inclusive Indo-Pacific region

"This would witness complex exercises including anti-surface, anti-air and anti-submarine drills," said the statement. It will involve nine warships, three maritime surveillance aircraft and a submarine.

Seven upper Ganga projects cleared amid grave eco concerns

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

SIDELINING concerns of experts on allowing construction of hydropower projects in the ecologically fragile Himalayas, the Union environment ministry has recommended allowing completion of seven hydroelectric projects on upper Ganga in Uttarakhand, including one that was damaged in flash floods in Chamoli in February killing over a hundred.

These projects were put on hold by the Supreme Court after the Kedarnath tragedy in 2013, which claimed over 5,000 lives, with several missing.

An affidavit submitted in Supreme Court on August 17 by Sujit Kumar Bajpayee, joint secretary in the environment ministry, said the decision has been based on a joint decision by three Union ministries.

"Following responses from the ministry of Power and the Ministry of Jal Shakti, the matter has been reviewed. There is consensus on seven projects among the three ministries and the government of Uttarakhand. These are part of the 26 projects recommended by the expert body II for implementation," said the affidavit.

The seven projects include Vishnugad Pipalkoti (444 MW) on Alaknanda river; Tapovan Vishnugad (520 MW) on Dhauliganga river; Singoli Bhatwari (99 MW) on Mandakini river; Phata-Buyong (76 MW) on Mandakini river; Tehri Stage II (1000 MW) on Bhagirathi river; Madhyamaheshwar (15 MW) on Madhmaheshwar Ganga; Kaliganga II (4.5 MW) on Kaliganga river.

The Chamoli disaster claimed nearly 200 lives earlier this year. More projects have been sanctioned in the region despite that

India must play statesmanly role in region, says Deve Gowda

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AS the security situation in Afghanistan continues to remain volatile, former Prime Minister HD Deve Gowda on Thursday said that India has a larger humanitarian and statesmanly role to play.

"In this crisis, India's security and strategic interests are of course the priority. But, the country also must realise that it has a larger humanitarian and statesmanly role to play," Gowda stated in the all-party meeting on Afghanistan.

"If we are to play a bigger role on the world stage and secure our multiple interests in the region, we should do the right things in our country. We have to ensure that our most vulnerable regions like Jammu and Kashmir are handled properly. Democratic and Constitutional aspirations there have to be addressed sincerely. We have to take care of the North-Eastern region. We have to work faithfully towards treating our entire population with dignity that our Constitution guarantees them as citizens," Gowda said.

The former PM also suggested that India has to explore an independent and meaningful role in the region, instead of playing part-roles set by other nations.

Ch'garh HC says forcible sex with wife is not rape

EJAZ KAISER @Raipur

OBSERVING that sexual intercourse or any sexual act by a husband with his legally-wedded wife is not rape, even if is committed against her wish, the Chhattisgarh High Court discharged a man from the offence of marital rape. However, the court framed charges against him under section 377 of Indian Penal Code for having unnatural sex with her.

The order was in stark contrast to Kerala High Court ruling, which earlier this month had dismissed the plea of a husband against divorce on marital rape grounds. Recognising marital rape as a form of cruelty, the Kerala High Court had stated it to be a ground for claiming divorce.

In the Chhattisgarh case, the Bemetara district police had booked the man under IPC section 376 (commits rape), 377 (voluntary having carnal intercourse as unnatural offences) and 498-A (atrocities on women to meet unlawful demand of property). The couple had married in June 2017.

Relying on Exception II of section 375 of IPC, Justice N K Chandravanshi said: "Sexual intercourse or sexual act by a man with his own wife, the wife not being under eighteen years of age, is not rape. In this case, complainant is legally wedded wife of the applicant, therefore, sexual intercourse or any sexual act with her by the applicant/husband would not constitute an offence of rape, even if it was by force or against her wish."

The court, however, did not find any infirmity in the trial Court framing the charge under IPC section 377 against the husband. Specific allegations against the husband were that he had made unnatural physical relations with her by inserting fingers and radish in her vagina, despite her protests.

On the charges under section 498A, again, the court was of the view there was no infirmity with the charge as written report and both the statements of the wife showed that after a few days into marriage, she was subjected to cruelty by all the accused persons over demand for dowry.

Amarinder's dinner diplomacy to show clout

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

EMBATTLED Punjab Chief Minister Amarinder Singh on Thursday managed to draw 58 MLAs and eight MPs to a dinner hosted by his supporter in a clear show of strength. The dinner diplomacy comes a day after the AICC stated Amarinder would lead the Congress' charge in the upcoming Assembly polls amid rebellion by four ministers and 28 MLAs. Punjab Assembly has 117 seats, with Congress legislators occupying 80 of them.

Sources in the Amarinder camp claimed the dinner was hosted by Punjab Sports and Youth Affairs Minister Rana Gurmit Singh Sodhi at his official residence and was attended by 58 MLAs and eight MPs. Notable absences were those of transport minister Razia Sultana and food Supplies minister Bharat Bhusan Ashu. While a few rebel MLAs attended, the four rebel ministers were absent.

Observers said the dinner diplomacy was a clever move, as it was not hosted by Amarinder but by his loyalist Sodhi and the large gathering indicated the rebellion has been quelled.

Raveen Thukral, media advisor to Amarinder, tweeted: "I had invited like-minded @INCPunjab MPs & MLAs for dinner. 58 MLAs & 8 MPs graciously accepted my invitation & expressed the confidence that the party would win the 2022 polls under the leadership of @capt_amarinder. The journey has started today': @iranasodhi.''

An MLA, who was present at the dinner, said, "It is a show of strength against the Opposition. Navjot Singh Sidhu is part of the party and this event presents a united front." When asked about the rebellion, he said: "They are our family and they will come back. They could not attend the dinner as they are in Delhi."

CBI files 9 cases of post-poll violence

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kolkata

THE CBI on Thursday registered nine cases in connection with murder and crime against women during the post-poll violence in West Bengal. The cases were registered on the basis of reports submitted by the state police to the central agency. The CBI is likely to register more cases.

A team visited the house of Abhijit Sarkar, who was killed allegedly by TMC supporters at Kankurgachi in east Kolkata, and recorded the statements of his brother Biswajit and other family members. Earlier this month, the Kolkata High Court had ordered a CBI probe into crimes like murder, rape and attempt to rape during the alleged post-poll violence.

The sleuths of the central agency started the probe with visiting Sarkar's house. On May 2, shortly after Assembly election results were announced, Sarkar's body was found beside the railway tracks. His family members accused TMC supporters of killing him and dumping the body.

Taking note of the findings of the National Human Rights Commission (NHRC), the high court had ordered second autopsy of Sarkar at army's hospital. The CBI formed four teams, each headed by a joint director, to conduct the probe. "We started the probe with recording statements of Sarkar's family members. We will investigate the complaints of grievous crimes received by the NHRC and which were not registered as FIR by police," said a CBI officer.

South Bengal visit

A CBI officer said they would first visit places in south Bengal districts from where most complaints came. "Our officers will match the feedback of the state police with the ground reality. If we find any anomaly, we will register fresh cases," he said

Guj HC refuses to lift part-stay on love jihad law

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

THE Gujarat High Court on Thursday turned down the state government's plea seeking rectification of its last week's order, in which it stayed the operation of section 5 of the new anti-conversion law that requires religious priests to take permission from the authorities before changing a person's faith.

Unhappy with the HC verdict, the BJP government has decided to move the Supreme Court, saying the law was enacted with a "noble" intention of protecting girls from "those who trap them using fake Hindu identities" and section 5 is the "key element" of the entire legislation.

Section 5 of the Gujarat Freedom Of Religion (Amendment) Act, 2021, mandates that religious priests must take prior permission from the district magistrate for converting a person from one faith to another.

Moreover, the one who got converted also needs to "send an intimation" to the district magistrate in a prescribed form. Non-adherence to these rules would attract up to one year in jail under the law which came into force more than two months ago.

Some sections of the new law have been challenged in the court by an organisation.

"We do not find reason to make any changes in the order passed by us on August 19," a division bench of Chief Justice Vikram Nath and Justice Biren Vaishnav after hearing the arguments put forth by Advocate General Kamal Trivedi.

STAYED OPERATION OF PARTS OF LAW

On August 19, the HC stayed sections 3, 4, 4A to 4C, 5, 6 and 6A of the amended Act pending further hearing, saying they "shall not operate merely because a marriage is solemnised by a person of one religion with a person of another religion without force or by allurement or by fraudulent means and such marriages cannot be termed as marriages for the purposes of unlawful conversion".

JD(U) warns of rift in NDA over BJP's stand

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @Patna

WITH different sections of the Bihar BJP taking different stands on caste-census, the JD(U) has warned divergent opinions might trigger a confrontation between the NDA constituents. Chairman of JD(U) Parliamentary board Upendra Kushwaha on Wednesday said the internal divisions of the BJP might strain the balance in Bihar NDA.

"There is a conflict within the BJP over caste census. A majority of its leaders want it to happen, but a few are opposing it. It must first resolve this conflict and then support the headcount," Kushwaha had said. His statement came on a day when Union Rural Development Minister and BJP MP from Begusarai Giriraj Singh opposed caste census. Earlier, Dr CP Thakur and Dr Rajendra Prasad Gupta (vice-president of Bihar BJP), too, had opposed the demand.

BJP's divergent stand was slammed by Hindustan Awami Morcha chief Jitan Ram Manjhi, who said any attempt to oppose the census was against the Constitution and Dr BR Ambedkar.

However, BJP sought to downplay the reference to division in its ranks, with BJP spokesperson in Patna Dr Nikhil Anand tweeting: "BJP is the only political party which has inner democracy and culture of discourse. Most political parties in Bihar and India are either a family fiefdom or pocket organisation of self-obsessed individuals."

The demand for caste census is an attempt by the JD(U) to keep the BJP in check, while trying to project Nitish Kumar as the national face of Mandal-II through a politically sensitive

Shah dials up Rane, seeks ground report

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah called up Narayan Rane on Thursday and enquired about the ongoing controversy over his intemperate remarks against Maharashtra Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray.

Rane was arrested for his statement against Uddhav and later released by the Mahad court, while the Bombay High Court granted relief to him till September 17 from coercive action by the state.

Former BJP MLA Pramod Jathar said Shah called up Rane and enquired about the political situation of Maharashtra. Shah wanted to get into the details of the incident, which led to Rane's arrest.

Sources in the BJP said the leadership is not happy with Rane's conduct. "This is humiliating not only for Rane, but also the party. The party is finding it hard to support Rane. This will also dent the image of the party," a senior BJP leader said.

While the leadership had arranged for replacements for its Jan Ashirwad Yatra, Rane has insisted to take it from where he left. However, sources said the leadership is wary of the impact of the bad press of his intemperate remarks against Uddhav.

Bail plea of Antilia bomb scare accused dismissed

Mumbai: A court here on Thursday rejected the bail plea of Naresh Gaur, an accused in the case of SUV with explosives found near industrialist Mukesh Ambani's residence and subsequent murder of businessman Mansukh Hiran. Gaur, an alleged cricket bookie, was arrested in March 2021 by the Maharashtra Anti-Terrorism Squad which was investigating the case before it was taken over by the NIA. He claimed that he had been made a scapegoat by the agency at the instance of co-accused Sachin Waze. Waze had never contacted him as alleged, Gaur said. The NIA opposed his application alleging that Gaur was part of the larger conspiracy hatched by Waze, the prime accused, to eliminate Hiran, a Thane-based businessman.

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

THE Rajasthan government is hoping to get 12th time lucky in its bid to sell an Agusta Westland chopper, which has been gathering dust at the Jaipur hangar since 2011. Bought by the then Vasundhara Raje government for a princely sum of ₹30 crore in 2005, the chopper has been in disuse since 2011, despite the state seeking a paltry ₹4.5 crore, which includes the cost of spares and tools.

While the directorate of civil aviation has floated a fresh tender, sources said the chances of the hangar getting rid of the chopper are scarce as it's considered jinxed. It went into disuse in 2011 after it developed a technical glitch when Ashok Gehlot was on board. Though the skilful pilots managed to land the chopper safely, Gehlot or his successor never boarded it again, fearing it was jinxed.

This helicopter was bought during Raje's first tenure as the chief minister in 2005. The machine is powered by A109E twin-engine and has a built in bar. The mega purchase was meant to ferry VVIPs.

Recently, chief secretary Niranjan Arya, during a high-level meeting, decided to re-auction the chopper and directed officials to submit fresh proposals. The chief secretary reportedly discussed in detail the feasibility of its future use before taking the decision to sell it, again.

This year, just two days before Independence Day, he climbed Mount Kun (7,077 meters), one of the highest peaks of the Himalayan range along the Line of Control in Ladakh. His next target is Mount Everest. Amit was part of a seven member team led by Baljeet Kaur, who returned to Lucknow on August 19. An alumnus of Patna University, Amit developed interest in trekking around 2017 after visiting Uttarakhand.

Realization curriculum to promote student happiness

To ensure happiness and peace to the budding academic minds, Uttar Pradesh government is set to introduce a 'realization curriculum', as a pilot project in at least 150 schools across 15 districts from academic session 2022-23. It has been renamed as 'realization curriculum' in UP and will be implemented in primary (from classes 1 to 5) schools initially. The contents will be finalised by the State Council of Educational Research and Training (SCERT) before textbooks are printed, said an officer. The curriculum will be implemented in Varanasi, Deoria, Gorakhpur, Siddharthnagar, Prayagraj, Amethi, Ayodhya, Lucknow, Moradabad, Meerut, Ghaziabad, Agra, Mathura, Jhansi and Chitrakoot from academic session 2022-23.

DESPERATE AFGHANS CLING TO EVACUATION HOPES

More than 95,0000 Afghans and foreigners have been airlifted so far | Most prefer to restart lives abroad as they are not reassured by Taliban promises of safety

KABUL

WITH the clock running down on the chance to escape life under the newly returned Taliban, thousands of Afghans were still besieging Kabul airport Thursday, hoping against hope that they could slip onto one of the last flights out.

Not even the threat of a suicide bomb attack deterred the throngs gathered at a roundabout on the main airport road — the chance of a new life abroad made the risk worthwhile.

"I will wait until the airport is closed," said a man who identified himself only as Hamid, adding he was a manager in a state ministry until 11 days ago when the Taliban rolled into Kabul. "They will give our jobs to their relatives. How will I support my family?" he said, accompanied by his wife, ageing father-in-law and two young children.

Hamid is not reassured by Taliban promises that he has nothing to fear under the new regime. But he also admits he is not in any high risk category of Afghans for which the evacuation is intended -- particularly those who worked for foreign forces during the 20-year US-led occupation.

"I have heard that if I get into the airport then I can go to America," he said.

"Can you take me to the gate? They will let you go through and you can take us with you."

People like Hamid and his family are partly responsible for the US-led evacuation being enveloped in chaos, but the speed of the Taliban's conquest of Afghanistan is an even bigger factor.

The US and other nations that had a military stake in Afghanistan planned for years to offer sanctuary to those who helped their troops — some more generously than others.

But plans for a staggered and orderly relocation of what the Taliban dub "collaborators" and their families were thrown into disarray by the group's stunning return to power.

More than 95,0000 Afghans and foreigners have been evacuated since airlifting started.

There are still, however, thousands of genuine at-risk Afghans in Kabul with visas and the promise of a flight out – if only they can get to the airport. AFP

NATO countries have 'duty' to take in Afghans: EU

BRUSSELS

COUNTRIES that were involved in the NATO mission in Afghanistan have a "duty of care" to Afghans in danger under Taliban rule and should take them in as refugees, the EU executive said on Thursday.

The message from the European Union is that "we have a duty to help those who are particularly at risk in Afghanistan, be it before or after the deadline" on Tuesday, ahead of which evacuations will have been halted, a European Commission spokesman said.

In a sign of Europe's concerns about an outflow of fleeing Afghans, the Slovenian presidency of the EU announced an emergency meeting of EU interior ministers will be held in Brussels on Tuesday to focus on the fallout from Afghanistan.

> Vulnerable Afghans should be given safe pathways to Europe and should expect that member states or countries that participated in particular in the NATO mission would have a duty of care towards them
>
> Eric Mamer, EU spokesperson

The EU is "working on a comprehensive approach on Afghanistan," one Commission spokesman, Christian Wigand, told reporters.

It includes using an existing EU-US-Canada-UN resettlement forum to secure promises to take in quotas of Afghan refugees.

Another spokesman, Eric Mamer, said "specific pledges for quotas" were expected up to a cut-off date of mid-September.

Vulnerable Afghans should be given "safe pathways" to Europe and should "expect that member states or countries that participated in particular in the NATO mission would have a duty of care" towards them, he said.

Of the 36 countries that participated in NATO's "Resolute Support" Mission in Afghanistan, 22 of them were EU member states, including Denmark, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Italy and Poland.

Some of the non-EU countries that participated in the NATO mission were Albania, Australia, Britain, Canada, the United States and Turkey.

The European Commission said it has flown out all of its staff from Afghanistan. AFP

Imran calls for positive engagement with Af

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN Prime Minister Imran Khan on Thursday called for the formation of an inclusive government in Afghanistan and asked the international community for positive engagement with Kabul as a way forward to avert any humanitarian crisis and ensure peace and stability in the war-ravaged country.

Khan made the comments during his meeting with Executive Director of United Nations World Food Program (WFP) David Beasley here. During the meeting, they discussed ways of facilitating the continued provision of humanitarian assistance to the Afghan people.

Khan said that positive engagement of the international community with Afghanistan was the "way forward to avert any humanitarian crisis and secure peace and stability in Afghanistan".

Beasley expressed gratitude to Pakistan for its role in facilitating the work of the World Food Program in providing food assistance to Afghans.

On Wednesday, Khan received a telephone call from Russian President Vladimir Putin and the two leaders discussed the latest developments in Afghanistan.

Separately, Pakistan Foreign Minister Shah Mahood Qureshi was on a visit to meet leaders of Tajikistan, Uzbekistan, Turkmenistan and Iran to discuss the situation in Afghanistan. PTI

Egypt re-opens Gaza crossing as Israel eases import curbs

RAFAH

EGYPT on Thursday partially re-opened the Rafah crossing with the Gaza Strip, allowing one-way traffic into Palestinian enclave, as Israel eased import curbs for the territory it has blockaded since 2007.

Rafah, Gaza's only gateway to the outside world not controlled by Israel, was shuttered on Monday by Egypt, which gave no reason for the move. But it came after Gazans on Saturday staged protests and violet riots along the border with Israel, which killed one Palestinian, left dozens of others injured and an Israeli soldier in critical condition from a gunshot wound.

Egypt, a key mediator between Israel and the Hamas Islamists who control the coastal enclave, has previously used Rafah closures as a punitive measure against Hamas.

Late Wednesday, Hamas's interior ministry announced that Rafah would open to incoming traffic on Thursday and to two-way traffic on Sunday. People had begun to cross after midday.

Border protests and riots on Wednesday in southern Gaza left 20 Palestinians following confrontations with Israeli troops, but the violence was more muted than on Saturday.

The Israeli military branch responsible for civil affairs in Palestinian territories (COGAT) said more goods would be allowed to enter Gaza from Thursday. They would includes "equipment for international civilian projects" and new vehicles. AFP

Siberia's wildfires 'almost' extinguished

MOSCOW

RUSSIAN authorities said Thursday they were close to putting out the devastating forest fires that have ripped across Siberia this summer in what environmentalists have linked to climate change. In hard-hit Yakutia — Russia's largest and coldest region — wildfires have burned through 99,000 sqkm, an area larger than Portugal. Smoke from the fires in the sparsely populated region that sits atop permafrost reached the North Pole earlier this month, NASA said. By Thursday the fires were active in an area of around 5,200 square kilometres, according to Russia's forestry agency, as the region experienced rainfall and a drop in temperatures.

"The president instructed us to extinguish the fires in Yakutia. This task is almost complete," the deputy head of Russia's emergencies ministry, Alexander Chupriyan, said Thursday.

He added that the remaining fires were under "control", the TASS news agency quoted him as saying. While wildfires affect Russia every summer, in recent years they have ripped through the country's vast forests with growing intensity. So far this year, blazes have ravaged over 173,500 sqkm, making it Russia's second-worst wildfire season since the turn of the century. President Putin on Tuesday pledged hundreds of millions of dollars to protect the country's forests. AFP

Govt extends tenure of 3 public sector banks' MDs

Move will ensure continuity of banking reform process, says DFS

ANURADHA SHUKLA @New Delhi

EVEN as the Banking Board Bureau had shortlisted the name of candidates for the post of MD and CEO of three public sector banks, Centre has decided to extend the tenure of existing heads of Punjab National Bank, UCO Bank and Bank of Maharashtra and also sought to extend the tenure of ten executive directors in various PSBs.

The Department of Financial Services (DFS) had written to the Department of Personnel and Training (DoPT) suggesting the extension of tenure of SS Mallikarjuna Rao, MD and CEO of Punjab National Bank.

Rao, who had managed the merger of the bank, was due for retirement on September 18 this year. Now his term will be till January 31, 2022.

DFS has also sought two-year extension for Atul Kumar Goel, MD and CEO of UCO Bank Kumar who was to retire on November 1, 2021 and A S Rajeev, MD and CEO of Bank of Maharashtra, who was set to retire on December 1, 2021.

The DFS has also sought two year extension to Bank of Baroda ED Ajay K Khurana, Canara Bank ED, A Manimekhalai, Bank of India ED, P R Rajagopal, and extension to tenure of Sanjay Kumar and Vijay Dube (Punjab National Bank), Gopal Singh Gusain and Manas Ranjan Biswal (Union Bank of India), Vikramaditya Singh Khichi (Bank of Baroda), Shenoy Vishwanath Vittal (Indian Bank), and Alok Srivastava (Central Bank of India) as EDs until their superannuation.

The Bank Boards Bureau has called for applications for the post of managing director (MD) and chief executive officer (CEO) for Punjab National Bank (PNB) last month only. Sources in the DFS said that the extension was sought for PNB, as they were yet to get a right candidate and they did not want to disrupt the recovery process of the banks. The bank had closed fiscal 2020-21 with a net profit of ₹2,022 crore, which they expect to be double in the current fiscal. DFS said that the extension will help in continuity of banking reforms process, which has been initiated by the finance ministry in last two years.

TENURE EXTENSION

- SS Mallikarjuna Rao, MD and CEO of Punjab National Bank, who was due to retire on September 18,2021, got extension till January 31, 2022
- Atul Kumar Goel, MD and CEO of UCO Bank, who was about to retire on November 1, 2021, got extension for two years
- AS Rajeev, MD and CEO of Bank of Maharashtra who was about to retire on Dec 1, 2021, 2021, got his tenure extended for two years
- 10 EDs of different banks have also been given extension

Boeing 737 Max gets DGCA clearance

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

AFTER two-and-a-half years, India's air safety regulator- Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA)- has allowed Boeing 737 MAX aircraft to fly again in Indian airspace. DGCA and aviation regulators worldwide had banned the controversial aircraft from flying in March 2019 following two fatal accidents.

DGCA in its order on Thursday said that the operation of Boeing 737 MAX planes are permitted "only upon satisfaction of applicable requirements for return to service". DGCA chief Arun Kumar said the basis of giving clearance to Max in India is approval given to it by Europe and the USA and "no untoward reporting" since it resumed operations in December 2020.

"Based on design changes by M/s Boeing, Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) issued an Airworthiness Directive (AD) on November 18, 2020, mandating actions for 737 Max airplanes return to service (RTS)," said Kumar. 737 Max has been flying in the United States since December last year. "Subsequently, European Aviation Safety Agency (EASA) also issued its own AD on February 17, 2021 which has been mandated by DGCA for compliance on Indian registered fleet," Kumar added.

The order noted that worldwide 17 regulators have permitted operation of Boeing 737 Max airplane. It said, "A sizeable number of airlines (34) with B737 Max airplane (345) are operating currently and have attained 1,22,824 total departures with 2,89,537 cumulative hours since the un-grounding from December 9, 2020, with no untoward reporting." China is the only major aviation market where regulators are yet to give approval to 737 planes.

Meanwhile, SpiceJet, the sole operator of these aircrafts in India, said it has entered into a "settlement" with a major lessor (called Avolon) of Boeing 737 Max planes, paving the way for the airline's 737 aircraft to return to service. The airline said it expects to start operations of Max planes around the end of September this year, subject to regulatory approvals.

Eliminate dependence on Chinese imports, Kant tells auto industry

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

NITI Aayog CEO Amitabh Kant on Thursday urged that automakers and components industry to put an end to its import dependence on China for a host of automotive parts and rather develop those items within India.

"It is important that certain automotive components, which are being imported from China purely on the back of cost competitiveness and development capabilities, be manufactured here...We should not become a major importing nation in electric-vehicle components like we've done in solar," said Kant while speaking at the 61st annual session of Automotive Component Manufacturers Association.

Kant said India is dependent on China for semiconductor-based components and other electrical parts for EVs and this should not only be minimised but eliminated. To note, a large portion of India's lithium ion battery needs are also imported from China.

According to ACMA data, import of components into India fell 11% to ₹1.02 lakh crore in FY21. China's share in auto component imports, however, went up 29% in FY21 compared to 26% in FY20.

Speaking on electric vehicles, Kant said that electric four-wheelers will also be considered for incentives under the FAME II scheme, once there is 100% saturation of electric buses in the nine cities selected under the programme. He also warned that a sharp rise in the number of EV start-ups (such as Ola and Ather) may disrupt the traditional business model of large established players if they refuse to switch to EV mobility soon.

Kant's statement comes a day after Maruti Suzuki chairman RC Bhargava had said that only strong statements are made (by government and policymakers) to reverse declining sales but no concrete actions is visible on the ground. Bhargava had also said that his company will start making EVs when it is affordable for consumers to own one.

Hyundai Motor India MD and CEO SS Kim said that there is a need to develop an alternate and localised supply chain to mitigate the impact of disruption and push localisation. He added that this strategy will ensure a greater level of competence and stability for the entire industry in India and for our export operations

Auto lobbying body SIAM President Kenichi Ayukawa said that semiconductor shortage is a big challenge but the situation could also turn out to be a big opportunity for the domestic auto component manufacturing industry.

MEIL eyes $2 bn revenue boost via indigenous oil rig business

JONATHAN ANANDA @Ahmedabad

MULTI-SECTOR infrastructure major Megha Engineering and Infrastructure Ltd (MEIL) is eyeing a $2 billion (~₹14,800 crore) boost to revenues by selling indigenously manufactured rigs to oil and gas exploration majors across the world. The company announced on Thursday that two such rigs are already on-site at ONGC's fields, with one already operational. The second rig is set to begin operations at ONGC's oil well near Dhamasana village, Kalol, Gujarat in a matter of days.

In total, MEIL will deliver 47 oil rigs to ONGC's oil and gas fields across India at a project cost of $860 million (over ₹6,000 crore). While the third rig is set to be handed over soon, MEIL will deliver 23 rigs to ONGC by the end of this financial year (March 2022). Fourteen of these rigs are already being transported to different oil and gas fields across India, top MEIL executives said.

"Until recently, India was mostly dependent on imports for oil and fuel extraction rigs, but MEIL has significantly boosted domestic rig manufacturing capacity. The second rig handed over to ONGC is manufactured with state-of-the-art hydraulic and automated technology," said N Krishna Kumar, Head-Oil Rigs Division, MEIL.

The indigenous component level in the advanced rigs is 50% at present, and will be increased to 90% over time, according to Rajesh Reddy, Vice-President, MEIL. So far, India has imported over 80% of the gear needed in the oil drilling process, but MEIL executives note that its push to localise rig manufacturing will significantly reduce the country's import dependency for this critical sector.

MEIL had acquired the Italy-based Trevi Group's Drillmec, an oil rig manufacturer, two years ago and has used the acquisition to build up its technology and local manufacturing capacities. MEIL currently has two major manufacturing facilities for the sector in Hyderabad and Kakinada and has invested $200 million (~₹1,400-1,500 crore) in developing these facilities so far.

According to Kumar, MEIL's new rigs are more advanced and safer than the older conventional rigs in operation in the Indian market.

MEIL will manufacture and deliver the 47 rigs to ONGC assets in Assam (Shib Sagar, Jorhat), Andhra Pradesh (Rajahmundry), Gujarat (Ahmedabad, Ankleshwar, Mehsana and Cambay), Tripura (Agartala) and Tamil Nadu (Karaikal).

The company is also interested in expanding its oil and gas exploration and production business, company officials said, adding that it is planning to participate in the bidding for the next round of oil and gas fields set to go under the hammer soon.

DBS BANK INDIA TO ENTER CREDIT CARD BIZ THIS YEAR: MD

SESA SEN @ New Delhi

DBS Bank India Limited (DBIL), the wholly-owned subsidiary of DBS Bank of Singapore, is preparing to enter the credit card market in India this year in a bid to grow the high-margin unsecured loan portfolio. The lender plans to cash in on the consumer credit that is likely to peak this festive season as economic activity picks up.

"DBS Bank already issues debit cards to digibank customers. Now, we have outlined a strategy for expansion into credit cards. By the end of 2021, DBS plans to launch a co-branded credit card along with Bajaj Finance and also come with our proprietary card over a period of 2-3 quarters," Prashant Joshi, Managing Director and Head - National Distribution, DBS Bank India, told TNIE in an exclusive chat.

Over the next five years, the bank is looking to take loan mix towards 60:40 for consumer and SME as well as corporate, respectively. The balance sheet composition before the Lakshmi Vilas Bank (LVB) merger in November last year was 75% corporate, 25% SME and consumer, while including LVB the composition is 53% and 47% respectively. "Our objective is to give revenue impetus in the LVB branches which are largely spread in South India. LVB's strengths were consumer businesses and SME," he said.

Joshi expects the overall credit growth for the financial year ended March 2022 should be strong at about 20-25%, excluding the impact of the balance sheet merger. Gold loan, affordable housing loan, personal loan will be the main areas of growth. The bank, however, doesn't intend to offer passenger vehicle financing organically at this moment.

According to the latest data from the RBI, credit card spending has increased to ₹62,746 crore in June, which is higher than the pre-pandemic levels, as mobility and business restrictions have been eased. Spending in Covid-hit June 2019 stood at ₹56,928 crore, while post the first lockdown in March, credit card spending dipped to ₹50,696 crore, the data showed. HDFC Bank is the largest credit card issuer, with 14.8 million cards at the end of June, followed by SBI Card with 12 million and ICICI Bank with 11.03 million.

On the integration with LVB, Joshi said that the organisational integration with LVB is done, while the tech platform integration will take another 15 months. LVB had Flexcube as its core banking platform, while DBS has Finacle 11. "Our immediate priority after the merger was to stabilise and assure both customers and staff about the safety of the bank."

Barclays bets on India's credit demand revival with ₹3k-cr investment

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

BARCLAYS Bank PLC India on Thursday said it will infuse at least $400 million (₹3,000 crore) in India operations to tap the revival in corporate credit demand as the economic activity gathers momentum.

This is the UK-based bank's single largest capital infusion so far in its India operations and comes after the lender had quit the retail business in Asia's third-largest economy with a combined asset size of around ₹3,200 crore in 2011.

With this infusion, its invested capital in the country will increase to more than ₹8,300 crore. In 2019-10, it had pumped in ₹540 crore. The fresh round of capital would help grow its corporate and investment banking as well as private clients businesses, Barclays said.

"The capital infusion in the bank reflects the success and strong track record of our India franchise built over the last three decades. As economic activity gathers momentum, there is increased demand for capital from clients," said Jaideep Khanna, Barclays CEO for India.

As of the first quarter of FY22, Barclays India's Tier-1 ratio stood at 14.71% (FY21:14.23%), according to India Ratings. With the fresh capital infusion, Barclays India's Tier-1 capital has increased by 55%.

Barclays India mainly lends to corporates with exposures largely to highly-rated clients and subsidiaries and operations of multinational companies as well as private clients business for high and ultra high networth individuals and family offices. Barclays India has direct head office linkages with Barclays Bank PLC, and India's liquidity and risk management practices are aligned with global practices with the former benefiting from the latter's oversight and management expertise.

The majority of Barclays India's loans constitute bill discounting (42% of the loan portfolio in FY21) and working capital loans (43%) which are mostly short-term.

PORTAL LAUNCH

e-SHRAM for unorganised workers

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

THE government on Thursday launched the e-SHRAM portal, which aims to maintain a national database of approximately 38 crore workers in the unorganised sector. Registrations across the country have begun from Thursday.

Upon registration on the portal, the workers shall be issued an e-SHRAM card with a 12-digit unique Universal Account Number (UAN), through which workers will be able to access the benefits of various social security schemes.

Every registered unorganised worker on eSHRAM portal will be sanctioned accidental insurance cover of ₹2 lakh for one year. If a worker registered with eSHRAM meets with an accident, he will be eligible for ₹2.0 lakh on death or permanent disability and ₹1.0 lakh on partial disability.

Unorganised workers across the country can register either by self enrolment through the portal or through Common Service Centres (CSC) or select post offices. The Ministry of Labour and Employment has been allotted ₹704 crore for the project.

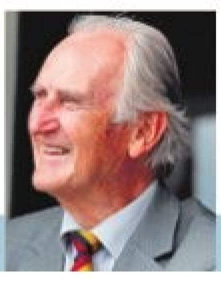
Ex-England cricket captain Dexter passes away



Former England captain Ted Dexter, "one of England's greatest ever cricketers", has died aged 86, the Marylebone Cricket Club announced on Thursday. Dexter skippered England in 30 of his 62 Tests with the MCC commenting he had played "the game with the same sense of adventure and fun that captures much of the story of his remarkable life".

BCCI working group yet to meet on domestic compensation package

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

EVEN as hundreds of domestic cricketers, umpires, match officials, and scorers continue to await a compensation package for the curtailed 2020/21 season, the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) remain silent.

At the Apex Council meeting on June 20, following a delay, the BCCI said it had decided to form a committee to look into the "issue of compensation for Indian domestic cricketers for season 2020 and 2021." The statement released by the BCCI stated: "The Apex Council has mandated the Office Bearers of BCCI to form the committee and find a suitable compensatory mechanism for domestic cricketers, at the earliest possible."

On July 10, BCCI secretary Jay Shah wrote to the state units revealing that a working group had been formed for domestic cricket in India. It raised hopes that the compensation package would be rolled out in due course.

However, 47 days have gone by since the formation of the group and they are yet to meet even once. In fact, according to the members, the working group is not even aware of their roles and their mandate. The working group comprises Rohan Jaitley (north zone), Yudhvir Singh (central), Jaydev Shah (west), Devajit Saikia (north-east), Avishek Dalmiya (east) and Santhosh Menon, and Mohammed Azharuddin (south).

"Since that mail, we have not received any communication from the BCCI. The message from the BCCI said the group has been formed for domestic cricket, but when the board revised the domestic calendar last week, we were not even aware," an official who is part of the group told this daily on condition of anonymity.

More than the domestic calendar, the members are surprised that there hasn't been any progression with regards to the compensation package. "As soon as the group was formed, many were hopeful that a package will be released because so many are suffering. But there hasn't been any discussion on this at all. The next season is less than a month away," an official said.

As previously reported by this daily, several players, umpires and match officials have been left in the lurch by the BCCI with hundreds receiving absolutely no payments for the 2020/21 season. There are indications in the BCCI corridors that the package will be announced during the annual general meeting in September. While the Registrar had extended the deadline to host the AGM last year, there hasn't been any communication so far and the state units believe the BCCI will announce a date soon. With the IPL set to resume in the UAE on September 19, it remains to be seen when and where the BCCI would host the AGM.

Joe lays the Root map for England

Skipper cracks his sixth century of the year to pile more misery on Kohli & Co

VIVEK KRISHNAN @Chennai

AT the start of Day 2 at Headingley, there were likely to be only two ways the day's proceedings could unfold after England's dominance on the opening day. India had to either keep taking wickets at regular intervals in the opening session to get back into the contest or resign themselves to the forlorn thought of England piling up a truckload of runs. Much to India's chagrin, it was the latter that transpired, resulting in one of those weary days in the field with Virat Kohli's boys waiting for the inevitable. Nothing was going to be more inevitable than a century from the blade of Joe Root.

In front of his cheering home crowd, Root's purple patch took a brighter hue as he hit his 23rd Test hundred and the sixth of this calendar year. At stumps, England were sitting comfortably on 423/8 with an enormous lead of 345 runs. It was a thoroughly dominant display by Root, taking just 123 balls to reach the three-figure mark with a stylish flick of the wrists through mid-on. A 139-run partnership with Dawid Malan, who scored 70, ensured that the good work of the English openers wasn't squandered.

Mohammed Shami did remove Rory Burns with a nip-backer that breached the left-hander's defence in the eighth over of the day, but that wasn't going to be enough to press the England dressing room into uncertainty. The Indian seamers had found lesser movement than their English counterparts on the first day — the pitch had eased out by the time England started batting according to data from CricViz — and it was a similar story on Thursday. A consequence of that perhaps was that the Indian bowlers weren't able to bowl the fuller lengths that the English bowlers employed to great effect. With the game situation also against the Indians, it meant that the attack looked rather pedestrian.

Only one other wicket fell in the opening session, with Ravindra Jadeja getting one to grip ever so slightly on the surface even as the Haseeb Hamid played inside the line and found his off-stump disturbed. But such moments of joy were few and far between for the visitors. At other times, they largely saw the ball ping off Root's bat.

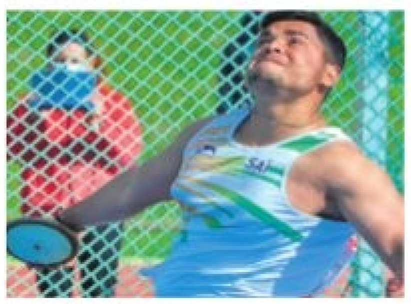
Mom's hand behind Yogesh's rise

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai



Yogesh Kathuniya

TILL he was nine, Yogesh Kathuniya was like any normal child of his age. He was studying at Army Public School in Chandigarh where his father Gyanchand Kathuniya was posted with the Army. But then he suffered a rare neurological disorder called Guillain-Barre syndrome causing quadriparesis (a condition in which the affected person has muscle weakness in all four limbs).

It confined Yogesh, in 2006, to a wheelchair with physiotherapy only the option. His mother Meena Devi decided to learn physiotherapy to ensure her son stands on his feet sooner than later. The move paid rich dividends as Yogesh started walking within three years. "I can never repay the support I got from my family, especially my mother who learned physiotherapy so that I could regain muscle strength," Yogesh told this newspaper from Tokyo. The discus thrower had made Paralympics cut by winning bronze in the F56 category at the 2019 World Para Athletics Championships in Dubai.

But Yogesh turned his attention to para sports only in 2017. "Sachin Yadav was general secretary of the students' union at Kirori Mal College in New Delhi where I was pursuing B.Com. He encouraged me to take up a sport and motivated me by showing videos of para athletes. Somehow I got a liking for discus throw and decided to give it a try."

Yogesh achieved success the very next year as he set a world record in the F36 category by hurling the disc to 45.18m at the Para Athletics Grand Prix in Berlin before making the Paralympics cut.

Boxers Vishu, Tanu & Nikita enter final

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

JUNIOR woman boxer Vishu Rathee (48kg) made short work of Otgonbat Yesunkhuslen to enter the final of the ongoing Asian Youth and Junior Championships in Dubai on Thursday. Tanu (50kg) and Nikita Chand (60kg) also won their respective ties to march into the finals.

Soon after the sound of the bell, Vishu asserted her dominance by landing some big punches on Otgonbat. It was clear that the Mongolian had no answers as the referee gave her a standing count after 40-odd seconds. Soon after the bout resumed, Otgonbat was on the ropes again as Vishu continued to pile on the pressure on her with some accurate blows. Seeing the powerless Mongolian struggle, the referee stopped the contest soon after. Tanu was also impressive, beating Nepal's Swostika 5-0. Nikita matched Tanu to beat Tokhirova Mukhlisa of Uzbekistan 5-0.

In the boys' section, Ashish (54kg) and Anshul (57kg) lost their respective semifinal bouts to settle for bronze medals.

Up against Uzbekistan's Norkosimov Mironshokh, Ashish was involved in a tough exchange of punches early on.

No PGTI event in B'luru this year

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THERE will be no Professional Golf Tour of India (PGTI) event in Bengaluru this year with Covid-19 primarily playing spoilsport. The Bengaluru Open Golf Championships, which was held between 2017 to 2019 at the Karnataka Golf Association, will not be held due to lack of sponsorships this time.

"Sponsorships are needed to host golf tournaments and Covid-19 has affected everyone and all business. Because of that, it is difficult for companies to raise money and sponsors this time," explained a KGA member why the competition will be absent from the PGTI this year. The suspended PGTI season will resume in Hyderabad early September. Nine more events have been lined up till December.
